2 Die in Wreck Near Winside; Herman Mishap Takes One Life

Three persons died in Nebraska traffic accidents Easter Sunday—two in a crash near Winside and one in a mishap near Herman.

The state safety patrol identified the dead as Jerold Brumels of near Norfolk, Alvin B. Peterson of Wayne and Raven V. Parker of Walthill.

Their deaths raised to 78 the number of Nebraska fatalities this year as compared with 68 killed at this time in 1935.

'Tony' Medals To Paul Muni, Julie Harris

Muni Miss Harris

NEW YORK (U)—Paul Muni and Julie Harris were awarded Broadway's annual "Tony" medallions Sunday night for outstanding starring dramatic performances during the theater season.

"Damn Yankees," was picked as the outstanding musical comedy and ran off with the most "Tony" awards, six altogether for show, players and production staff.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" was selected as the top drama.

The winners are chosen by ballot of the membership from nominations in each of 17 categories. The presentations were made by Helen Hayes and other theater notables.

Muni was cited for his performance in "Inherit the Wind" and Miss Harris for her portrayal of Joan of Arc in "The Lark." She previously received a "Tony" in 1932 as the star of "I Am a Camera."

The top awards for performances in musical comedy went to Gwen Verdon and Ray Walston of "Damn Yankees."

In the same show, "Tonys" went to Russ Brown for supporting player, Robert Fosse for choreography and Hal Hastings for musical direction.

Piercing screams and sharp teeth sent an intruder scurrying from the bedroom of a 62-year-old Lincoln woman early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lola A. Ullstrom of 2821 E. told police the man entered her home through a kitchen window, went to her bedroom and grabbed her.

She said he clamped his hand over her mouth, but she bit him. Then she said she screamed—loud and long.

The intruder hurriedly retreated downstairs and out the same kitchen window.

She described her assailant as about 30 years old and about five feet five inches tall.

Police Are Sent To Stop 'Beating'—Assist Stork

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (U)—Police dispatched to investigate a report that two men were beating up a woman in a front yard here arrived just in time to assist an impatient stork.

Mrs. Carol A. Maudie, an expectant mother, had started for the hospital with her husband, Sgt. Bert W. Maudie, and neighbors in their apartment house, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bobo.

They made it only as far as the front yard. Police arrived just in time to hold a flashlight for a hastily-summoned physician, who delivered a girl—the Maudies' second daughter.

Uneasy Easter Marked

... in World

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Christians of a troubled world celebrated Sunday the resurrection of Jesus Christ, prince of peace.

At the holy city of Jerusalem, pilgrims from all lands heard the timeless words of the Easter service: "He is not here, for He is risen."

But just beyond the grave in the quiet garden outside Jerusalem's old walls, where the sunrise service was held, there was no peace.

An Israeli farmer was wounded by fire across the uneasy border with Jordan. It was another page in the unrelenting chapters of violence and the threat of war between Israeli and Arab.

Mindful Of Perils
Pope Pius XII was mindful of the perils of the day as he spoke from a Vatican balcony to 350,000 Christians assembled below in St. Peter's Square.

He spoke of nuclear weapons and long-range missiles and their menace to mankind, and how the enormous energy of the atom might be put to peaceful use.

"All are aware," the 80-year-old pontiff said, "that other (than peaceful) uses have been sought and found suitable for producing, instead, destruction and death."

"And what a death!"
"Every day is a melancholy step forward on this tragic road; it is a hastening on to arrive alone, first, with greater advantage, and the human race almost loses hope of being able to stop this homicidal, this suicidal madness."

He asked for "light and strength from the risen Christ for those who control the destinies of nations."

Not far from the holy land, on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus, bombs exploded and bullets whined. Greek Cypriots demanding union with Greece are defying British rule. An elderly British civilian out for an Easter stroll was shot dead by terrorists.

Overseas
In Munich, Germany, Easter messages of U.S. Roman Catholic and Protestant clergymen were beamed by Radio Free Europe across the Iron Curtain.

In Washington, President Eisenhower led his countrymen at worship in the National Presbyterian Church. There the pastor, the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, spoke of Jesus as truth "and truth marches invincibly."

"The day was bright in Washington and in most of the rest of the nation. In New York, chill winds forced strollers in Fifth Avenue's annual Easter parade to wear wraps."

It was cold and windy in Paris, too, reducing the parade on the boulevards to a few visiting British school girls and German tourists.

Lelievre Dies In Paris
PARIS (U)—Leo Lelievre, French composer who wrote over 6,000 songs, died here. He would have been 84 Sunday. Most of Lelievre's songs were written in the early 1900s. They include "La Maitiche" and "Frou Frou," which made a big hit when they were published before World War I and are still heard today.

Snow West, Showers East Possible:

Mercury Soars To Ninety; Records Fall In State's East

Record-breaking temperatures swept over eastern Nebraska Sunday as Lincoln and Omaha readings soared to 90 degrees and Offutt AFB had 92.

The Omaha reading beat the previous high, recorded in 1882 and 1928, by six degrees.

Elsewhere in the state the mercury climbed into the 80s and high 70s. Both Norfolk and Grand Island recorded Sunday highs of 84. Offutt Field reported 92 degrees.

A trace of precipitation was measured at Grand Island while dust was reported by the Weather Bureau at both Grand Island and Kearney early Sunday evening.

Lincolntites rushed to the city parks Sunday in an attempt to beat the heat. Pioneers Park was crowded with persons playing golf and softball and flying kites.

Jim Ager, city park superintendent, said the zoo at Antelope Park was filled with sight-seers.

The Weather Bureau said a large low pressure center over Colorado would move slowly eastward, bringing gradually increasing moisture and cooler temperatures to Nebraska.

For Monday the weatherman predicted winds, clouds, snow, rain or drizzle for the northwest accompanied with colder weather.

The eastern part of the state is to feel the cool air by Monday evening. Highs Monday are predicted to reach only in the 30s in the northwest to warm 75-85 readings in the southeast.

Rain or snow in the northeast is forecast for Tuesday with colder temperatures in the east and south.

Late Sunday night the west was already feeling the brunt of the cold mass of air. Chadron was reporting a 38-degree reading at that time while at the same time Omaha had a pleasant 75.

Central's Steam Generator To Be Constructed By 1957

LINCOLN Star Special
HASTINGS — Construction of the 100,000 kilowatt steam generating plant at Lexington by the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District calls for the erection of the plant by October, 1957. Major equipment is to be received from the manufacturers in about a year and commercial operation is to start by May 15, 1958.

According to Ralph Canaday, manager of the Central District, no obstacles remain in the erection of the plant. Final approval for the construction came at a special meeting where an agreement between officials of Consumers Public Power District and Central was reached.

Financing through the REA, though not final, is pretty well assured, he said. Officials from REA have studied plans for the plant and have said it meets all requirements. Money for the plant is available, the REA has said, he continued.

"No Obstacles"
"As of now there are no obstacles to prevent the loan at the rate of 2 per cent," Canaday said Sunday. "There's always a possibility that something might happen—until their signature is on the dotted line—but the plant has been discussed in Washington and we have assurances that the loan will go through."

To receive the loan from the REA, the plant must allocate 100 per cent of its capacity to rural electrification districts. This has been done, but Canaday estimates that much of the plant production will go into a pool and will be resold by the Nebraska Public Power System.

Consumers Public Power District has assured officials of Central that it will not construct any power generating plants other than the proposed atomic generator near Hallam. Canaday says this will not interfere with Central's plant since the Lexington plant will be in operation sooner than the one at Hallam.

In event the REA loan is not granted, money would be obtained through private sources. Bankers have estimated bonds could be sold at an average interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent, Canaday said.

Total erection cost, including the cost of the right of ways, is to be about $15 1/2 million. Contracts for the building site have been held up pending the completion of the plans. Actual construction at the plant site is expected to begin early in the summer, he concluded.

'Sad-Millionaire'—FABULOUSLY-RICH FRANK GOULD DIES; INCOME $115,000 A DAY

JUAN-LES-PINS, France (U)—American railroad heir Frank Jay Gould, the "sad millionaire" who created the gay Riviera resort of Juan-les-Pins, is dead.

Death came on the dawn of Easter Sunday for the 78-year-old expatriate who inherited 10 million dollars and whose financial astuteness gave him an income estimated by some of his friends at $115,000 a day. His exact fortune was not known.

Gould died at his villa "Soleil d'Or"—Golden Sun—where he had been almost a recluse for many years. He had been bedridden since 1954 and in recent days was kept alive by injections. Ure-mia was given as the cause of death.

His wife, Florence, was at his side when the end came. He had been married twice before.

Gould was known as the "sad millionaire" among residents of

Juan-les-Pins who seldom saw him. Despite his tremendous wealth he lived quietly and was cared for by a single servant.

Although he seldom ventured into them, even in earlier days, Gould owned the main hotels, the gambling casino and most of the night spots in Juan-les-Pins, a once drab little village he transformed into a glittering Riviera holiday spot.

He had lived in France for 40 years—even during the Nazi occupation—but maintained his American citizenship.

Gould was the youngest son of railroad magnate Jay Gould. He entered the railway business in 1897 and his holdings spread. He was credited with building up the Virginia Railway and Power System which became the Virginia Electric and Power Co. He came to France in 1913 and plunged into European finance and became interested in the booming Riviera.

14 Survive As TWA Ship Plows Into Hill In Pittsburgh Takeoff

ONE PASSENGER'S FATE A MYSTERY

By JOHN MOODY and GIB STALEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—An airliner taking off from Greater Pittsburgh Airport Sunday night crashed into a hillside a few seconds from the runway and burst into flames.

Twenty-one bodies were removed from the wreckage of the TWA twin-engine ship. One passenger, not identified by name, was listed by the airline as missing.

Fourteen persons, including the pilot and co-pilot, were treated at nearby hospitals.

Stewardess' Body
One of the first bodies to be identified by the office of Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner, was that of Mary Jane Fanning, the stewardess, of Elmhurst, Long Island. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fanning, Albuquerque, N. M.

The airline said it was all but certain that 36 persons had been aboard the plane at takeoff, a spokesman noting that "such lists are checked very carefully, and we have the tickets that were turned over to the stewardess."

However, the spokesman added it was "remotely possible" that one of the 36 might not have boarded, and suggested also the possibility that some one person might have been treated at a distant hospital or had left the scene without reporting or requiring treatment.

All Bodies Out
Police and firemen cordoned off the crash area to keep out curious spectators. Dr. McClelland said he was satisfied all bodies had been removed from the wreckage.

Thousands of sightseers on an Easter Sunday night promenade at the airport watched the fire. Thousands more helped create a monster traffic jam that blocked police and emergency workers rushing to the scene.

TWA said the cause of the crash had not been determined, but a preliminary investigation indicated no engine trouble.

One of the less fortunate passengers was Alex Fox, onetime University of Pittsburgh football star in the era of the late Coach Jock Sutherland.

Fox's body, the only one immediately identified, was recognized at the scene by Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner.

The bodies were brought to the county morgue in Pittsburgh.

The plane, a Martin Skyliner, was enroute to Newark, N.J., with scheduled stops at Harrisburg, Reading and Allentown, Pa.

Cleared Runway
It had cleared the runway and was flying near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Zitko when the crash came. Mrs. Zitko said she and her husband "heard a rumbling sound, the huge explosion and the house rocked."

Flames fed by the gasoline spill.

Passenger Felt She Would Die

PITTSBURGH (U)—"I had the sensation I was going to burn to death."

That's what Mrs. Dorothy Yingling, Camp Hill, Pa., said Sunday night as she was being treated for minor injuries suffered in the flaming crash of a TWA twin-engine airliner at Greater Pittsburgh airport.

Mrs. Yingling, a mature woman, appeared calm after her harrowing experience.

Broke Open
"The plane seemed to catch fire immediately after the crash," Mrs. Yingling related. "The plane broke open right across the aisle from me. I had a chance to get out. I was sitting in the middle of the plane."

"There were a couple of anxious moments while I struggled with the safety belt—but I finally made it on the second try."

Mrs. Yingling was en route to her home near Harrisburg. She is co-ordinator of records for the Aircraft Marine Products Co. in Harrisburg. Her husband, W. W. Yingling, is field director of Christian education for the Presbyterian Church.

Engine Noise
A veteran air traveler, Mrs. Yingling said the "first intimation of trouble" was when she heard an engine noise, adding:

"I thought it was the right engine."

"It sounded like it was conking out. Then the plane broke in two. I dropped down in the wreckage."

"Everybody seemed to work to help everybody else. There was a man next to me—but I don't think he got out."

Airmen Jailed In Shooting Incident

Two 19-year-old airmen were booked in at the county jail for investigation in connection with shooting four 22 caliber bullets into a car while the owner was working on it south of Yankee Hill Cemetery Sunday.

The sheriff's office said W. C. Schmidt of Route 1 reported that his car vapor locked and he hitchhiked to get some tools. While working on his car, the sheriff's office said, two men rode by in a convertible.

One of the men stood up in the car and shot three bullets into the trunk and one bullet through the windshield of the car, the sheriff's office said.

Schmidt gave a description of the car to law enforcement officials who arrested the two airmen and brought them to the county jail. The sheriff's office estimated the damage at $75.

No answer.
Ed: "I say, I guess you've been out with worse-looking fellows than me?"
Sally: "I heard you the first time. I was just trying to think."

ing from the plane leaped up almost immediately as passengers and crew members fought their way out of the debris.

By the time fire fighters reached the scene, on a small rise where coal had been striped-mined years ago, there was little they could do but pour chemicals on the flames.

Only the tail was left intact of the big plane. It jettied high above the ground, shining like a silvery tombstone in the glare of floodlights as police and firemen combed the debris.

Hope Pilot Can Talk
TWA spokesmen said at midnight they had halted work until Monday, but they expressed the hope that a statement from Capt. Raymond F. McQuade, the pilot, would shed much light on the cause of the crash. Capt. McQuade, one of the injured, was in Sewickley Valley Hospital and reporters were not permitted to talk with him. TWA said he was in severe shock.

Some others aboard the plane were more fortunate. At least two passengers, John McCarthy, 32, and T. J. O'Malley, 39, of suburban Pittsburgh, walked into a hospital for dispensary treatment, and then released to go home.

The plane split open near the center of the fuselage, and the passenger compartment was burned to junk. A crumpled wing lay nearby and the engines and some of the debris in a shallow hole on a plateau on the hillside.

The crash occurred about 7:20 p.m., just after dusk of a calm and sunny Sunday that had brought thousands of men, women and children to the airport for an Easter promenade.

Also a hospital patient, and unavailable to reporters, was co-pilot Harlan Jesserson.

California Easter Crash Kills Four

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (INS)—An "Easter breakfast flight" in a rented plane ended in death Sunday for two men and two girls.

The plane crashed in the San Bernardino Mountains, 10 miles northwest of San Bernardino, while en route from El Monte to Apple Valley.

The dead were identified as Ronald B. Silver, 25, the pilot, of Alhambra; his sister, Sandra H. Silver, 20; Margaret Lee, 20, daughter of Dr. Adrian Lee of Beverly Hills, and Saul Dibner, 20, of Los Angeles.

RABID FOX CHASES BOY INTO HOUSE

CONOWINGO, Md. (U)—A grey fox, believed rabid, entered a home near here Sunday and bit five members of a family before the father shot the animal as it perched on a bookcase.

Bert A. Craft, 48, his wife, Mary Ann, 34, and their three children, Thomas 12, Minnie 9, and Virginia 7, were treated at Harford Memorial Hospital Sunday night.

State Trooper Wiley Fields said Thomas heard the family dog barking outside the home Sunday evening and went outside to investigate. He found the dog scrapping with a fox.

When the fox saw the boy, he turned on him, chased him into the house, and got in before Thomas could close the door. Then the fox, frothing at the mouth, went on his wholesale biting spree before Craft shot him with a rifle.

Several dogs in the neighborhood were bitten and will have to be confined.

India Buys Arms

LONDON (U)—British sources said Sunday India has placed a multimillion-dollar order for British jet bombers, tanks and other weapons after rejecting a cut-price offer of Soviet arms.

Easter Crashes Slaughter Three

2 Die In Wreck Near Winside; Herman Mishap Takes One Life

Three persons died in Nebraska traffic accidents Easter Sunday—two in a crash near Winside and one in a mishap near Herman.

The state safety patrol identified the dead as Jerold Brumels of near Norfolk, Alvin B. Peterson of Wayne and Raven V. Parker of Walthill.

Their deaths raised to 78 the number of Nebraska fatalities this year as compared with 68 killed at this time in 1955.

Four Injured In 2-Fatality Auto Collision

Lincoln Star Special
WINSIDE, Neb.—Two Northeast Nebraska youths were killed and four others injured in a head-on auto collision about 2 miles east of Winside early Sunday morning.

Cars containing Jerold G. Brumels, 22, of Route 1, Norfolk, and Alvin B. Peterson, 20, of 420 Main Street, Wayne, came together on State Highway 35.

Brumels was killed instantly, and Peterson was dead on arrival at a Norfolk hospital.

The four persons taken to the Lutheran Hospital in Norfolk as a result of the crash were:

Randall Lee Brumels, 23, brother of Jerold Brumels, head injuries, cuts and bruises; fair condition.

Elaine Fork, 19, 806 West 3rd, Wayne, cuts and bruises and an injury from a piece of metal driven six inches into her hip; satisfactory condition.

Jesse Romero, 24, of Lafayette, La., a soldier stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan., skull fracture, broken collar bone, cuts and bruises; satisfactory condition.

Ambulance Crashes
Enroute to the hospital the ambulance carrying the injured was involved in an accident. Willard Wiltse, of Wayne, lost control near Hoskins and the vehicle rolled over twice, demolishing it. Romero was thrown from the ambulance. Highway patrolman Daryl Pittinger said it was believed Romero suffered the skull fracture in the second crash.

Miss Carstens and the Brumels brothers were west-bound at the time of the collision, while Miss Fork, Peterson and Romero were in the east-bound vehicle.

Investigators at the scene could not determine immediately the cause of the accident. Highway 35 is straight and "fairly open," but gravelled at the point where the cars met.

Both cars were demolished, but damage to each was almost identical, centering about the left front of the vehicles. The cars were found crosswise in the road after the impact.

One Dead As Car Rams Bus

Lincoln Star Special
HERMAN, Neb.—Raven V. Parker, 23, of Walthill was killed when a car driven by his cousin, Clarence Parker, 20, of Tekamah, rammed the rear of a Burlington bus one mile north of Herman on U.S. Highway 73 Sunday morning.

Clarence Parker escaped with a cut face and an injured knee, according to Bert County Sheriff Walter Dean. Raven Parker was killed instantly.

The bus, bound to Sioux City from Omaha, was not damaged extensively and continued on to its destination. No one aboard the bus was hurt.

Sheriff Dean said the Parkers had been in Walthill and Decatur Saturday night and were seen at Herman shortly before the crash. The sheriff said the car apparently came up on the bus at a high rate of speed and the driver apparently misjudged the speed of the bus.

The Weather
NEBRASKA: Cloudy and windy Monday with occasional rain or drizzle except rain or snow northwest, considerably colder west and turning colder east, highs 30s extreme northwest to 75-85 southeast; snow west, north Monday night; Tuesday partly cloudy with rain or snow likely northeast in forenoon, colder east and south.

JUAN-LES-PINS, France (AP)—American railroad heir Frank Gould, the "sad millionaire" who created the gay Riviera resort of Juan-les-Pins, is dead.

Death came on the dawn of Easter Sunday for the 78-year-old expatriate who inherited 10 million dollars and whose financial astuteness gave him an income estimated by some of his friends at $115,000 a day. His exact fortune was not known.

Gould died at his villa "Soleil d'Or"—Golden Sun—where he had been almost a recluse for many years. He had been bedridden since 1954 and in recent days was kept alive by injections. Uremia was given as the cause of death.

His wife, Florence, was at his side when the end came. He had been married twice before.

Gould was known as the "sad millionaire" among residents of Juan-les-Pins who seldom saw him. Despite his tremendous wealth he lived quietly and was cared for by a single servant.

Although he seldom ventured into them, even in earlier days, Gould owned the main hotels, the gambling casino and most of the night spots in Juan-les-Pins, a once drab little village he transformed into a glittering Riviera holiday spot.

He had lived in France for 40 years—even during the Nazi occupation—but maintained his American citizenship.

Gould was the youngest son of railroad magnate Jay Gould. He entered the railway business in 1897 and his holdings spread. He was credited with building up the Virginia Railway and Power System which became the Virginia Electric and Power Co. He came to France in 1913 and plunged into European finance and became interested in the booming Riviera.

14 Survive As TWA Ship Plows Into Hill In Pittsburgh Takeoff

By JOHN MOODY and GIB STALEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—

An airliner taking off from Greater Pittsburgh Airport Sunday night crashed into a hillside a few seconds from the runway and burst into flames.

Twenty-one bodies were removed from the wreckage of the TWA twin-engine ship. One passenger, not identified by name, was listed by the airline as missing.

Fourteen persons, including the pilot and co-pilot, were treated at nearby hospitals.

Stewardess' Body
One of the first bodies to be identified by the office of Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner, was that of Mary Jane Fanning, the stewardess, of Elmhurst, Long Island. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Fanning, Albuquerque, N. M.

The airline said it was all but certain that 36 persons had been aboard the plane at takeoff, a spokesman noting that "such lists are checked very carefully, and we have the tickets that were turned over to the stewardess."

However, the spokesman added it was "remotely possible" that one of the 36 might not have boarded, and suggested also the possibility that some one person might have been treated at a distant hospital or had left the scene without reporting or requiring treatment.

All Bodies Out
Police and firemen cordoned off the crash area to keep out curious spectators. Dr. McClelland said he was satisfied all bodies had been removed from the wreckage.

Thousands of sightseers on an Easter Sunday night promenade at the airport watched the fire. Thousands more helped create a monster traffic jam that blocked police and emergency workers rushing to the scene.

TWA said the cause of the crash had not been determined, but a preliminary investigation indicated no engine trouble.

One of the less fortunate passengers was Alex Fox, onetime University of Pittsburgh football star in the era of the late Coach Jock Sutherland.

Fox's body, the only one immediately identified, was recognized at the scene by Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner.

The bodies were brought to the county morgue in Pittsburgh.

Cleared Runway
It had cleared the runway and was flying near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Zitko when the crash came. Mrs. Zitko said she and her husband "heard a rumbling sound, the huge explosion and the house rocked."

Flames fed by the gasoline spill

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I had the sensation I was going to burn to death."

That's what Mrs. Dorothy Yingling, Camp Hill, Pa., said Sunday night as she was being treated for minor injuries suffered in the flaming crash of a TWA twin-engine airliner at Greater Pittsburgh airport.

Mrs. Yingling, a mature woman, appeared calm after her harrowing experience.

Broke Open
"The plane seemed to catch fire immediately after the crash," Mrs. Yingling related. "The plane broke open right across the aisle from me. I had a chance to get out. I was sitting in the middle of the plane."

"There were a couple of anxious moments while I struggled with the safety belt—but I finally made it on the second try."

Mrs. Yingling was en route to her home near Harrisburg. She is co-ordinator of records for the Aircraft Marine Products Co. in Harrisburg. Her husband, W. W. Yingling, is field director of Christian education for the Presbyterian Church.

Engine Noise
A veteran air traveller, Mrs. Yingling said the "first intimation of trouble" was when she heard an engine noise, adding:

"I thought it was the right engine."

"It sounded like it was conking out. Then the plane broke in two. I dropped down in the wreckage."

"Everybody seemed to work to help everybody else. There was a man next to me—but I don't think he got out."

Airmen Jailed In Shooting Incident

Two 19-year-old airmen were booked in at the county jail for investigation in connection with shooting four .22 caliber bullets into a car while the owner was working on it south of Yankee Hill Cemetery Sunday.

The sheriff's office said W. C. Schmidt of Route 1 reported that his car vapor locked and he hitchhiked to get some tools. While working on his car, the sheriff's office said, two men rode by in a convertible.

One of the men stood up in the car and shot three bullets into the trunk and one bullet through the windshield of the car, the sheriff's office said.

Schmidt gave a description of the car to law enforcement officials who arrested the two airmen and brought them to the county jail. The sheriff's office estimated the damage at $75.

Today's Chuckle

No answer.

Ed: "I say, I guess you've been out with worse-looking fellows than me?"

Susie: "I heard you the first time. I was just trying to think."

from the plane leaped up almost immediately as passengers and crew members fought their way out of the debris.

By the time fire fighters reached the scene, on a small rise where coal had been striped-mined years ago, there was little they could do but pour chemicals on the flames.

Only the tail was left intact of the big plane. It jutted high above the ground, shining like a silvery tombstone in the glare of floodlights as police and firemen combed the debris.

Hope Pilot Can Talk
TWA spokesmen said at midnight they had halted work until Monday, but they expressed the hope that a statement from Capt. Raymond F. McQuade, the pilot, would shed much light on the cause of the crash. Capt. McQuade, one of the injured, was in Sewickley Valley Hospital and reporters were not permitted to talk with him. TWA said he was in severe shock.

Some others aboard the plane were more fortunate. At least two passengers, John McCarthy, 32, and T. J. O'Malley, 39, of suburban Pittsburgh, walked into a hospital for dispensary treatment, and then released to go home.

The plane split open near the center of the fuselage, and the passenger compartment was burned to junk. A crumpled wing lay nearby and the engines and some of the debris in a shallow hole on a plateau on the hillside.

The crash occurred about 7:20 p.m., just after dusk of a calm and sunny Sunday that had brought thousands of men, women and children to the airport for an Easter promenade.

Also a hospital patient, and unavailable to reporters, was copilot Harlan Jespersen.

California Easter Crash Kills Four

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (INS)—An "Easter breakfast flight" in a rented plane ended in death Sunday for two men and two girls.

The plane crashed in the San Bernardino Mountains, 10 miles northwest of San Bernardino, while en route from El Monte to Apple Valley.

RABID FOX CHASES BOY INTO HOUSE

CONOWINGO, Md. (AP)—A grey fox, believed rabid, entered a home near here Sunday and bit five members of a family before the father shot the animal as it perched on a bookcase.

Bert A. Craft, 48, his wife, Mary Ann, 34, and their three children, Thomas 12, Minnie 9, and Virginia 7, were treated at Harford Memorial Hospital Sunday night.

State Trooper Wiley Fields said Thomas heard the family dog barking outside the home Sunday evening and went outside to investigate. He found the dog scrapping with a fox.

When the fox saw the boy, he turned on him, chased him into the house, and got in before Thomas could close the door. Then the fox, frothing at the mouth, went on his wholesale biting spree before Craft shot him with a rifle.

Several dogs in the neighborhood were bitten and will have to be confined.

'Tony' Medals To Paul Muni, Julie Harris

Muni Miss Harris

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Muni and Julie Harris were awarded Broadway's annual "Tony" medallions Sunday night for outstanding starring dramatic performances during the theater season.

"Damn Yankees," was picked as the outstanding musical comedy and ran off with the most "Tony" awards, six altogether for show, players and production staff.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" was selected as the top drama.

The winners are chosen by ballot of the membership from nominations in each of 17 categories. The presentations were made by Helen Hayes and other theater notables.

Muni was cited for his performance in "Inherit the Wind" and Miss Harris for her portrayal of Joan of Arc in "The Lark." She previously received a "Tony" in 1952 as the star of "I Am a Camera."

The top awards for performances in musical comedy went to Gwen Verdon and Ray Walston of "Damn Yankees."

Piercing Screams, Sharp Bite Send Assailant Fleeing

Piercing screams and sharp teeth sent an intruder scampering from the bedroom of a 62-year-old Lincoln woman early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Lola A. Ullstrom of 2821 R, told police the man entered her home through a kitchen window, went to her bedroom and grabbed her.

She said he clamped his hand over her mouth, but she bit him. Then she said she screamed—loud and long.

The intruder hurriedly retreated downstairs and out the same kitchen window.

She described her assailant as about 30 years old and about five feet five inches tall.

Police Are Sent To Stop 'Beating'—Assist Stork

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—Police dispatched to investigate a report that two men were beating up a woman in a front yard here arrived just in time to assist an impatient stork.

Mrs. Carol A. Maudie, an expectant mother, had started for the hospital with her husband, Sgt. Bert W. Maudie, and neighbors in their apartment house, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bobo.

They made it only as far as the front yard. Police arrived just in time to hold a flashlight for a hastily-summoned physician, who delivered a girl—the Maudies' second daughter.

Demos, GOP Hit Ag Bill 'Stall'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans and Democrats accused each other Sunday of stalling election-year farm aid envisioned in President Eisenhower's soil bank program.

The political crossfire came as Senate-House conferees took an Easter recess from their efforts to hammer a single farm proposal out of conflicting bills approved by the House and Senate.

The Republican National Committee said "farmers will be denied the full benefits" of the soil bank plan this year "thanks to a deliberate slowdown by Democrats in Congress led by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota."

Humphrey replied with a statement saying the Eisenhower administration already has ample authority to put the soil bank program into effect.

The political sharpshooting, obviously aimed at farm belt voters, heightened speculation that Congress and the White House might be unable to agree on any new farm legislation this year.

A congressional deadlock or a presidential veto could result in delaying action until the next session of Congress.

The GOP committee contended in its monthly publication Straight From the Shoulder that "Democratic colleagues joined Sen. Humphrey in stalling as GOP congressmen fought to get a sound bill... the President's hands in time to help farmers this year."

"Direct Victims" — "The nation's farmers, trying to plan their operations in a difficult agricultural year, were the direct victims of these Democratic political tactics," it said.

Humphrey, vacationing in Florida, apparently anticipated the Republican blast. He had a statement ready here contending that the administration could have put its $1,200,000,000 soil bank program into operation without new legislation.

All that it needed to do, Humphrey said, was to ask Congress early this year for additional "funds in the President's budget."

"Laws that have been on the books for 20 years include all the authority required to carry out any of the 'soil bank' activities proposed by President Eisenhower," Humphrey said.

Heavy Watering Of Lawns Creates Big Water Demand

Water consumption over the weekend kept the city pumps in action as Lincolnites soaked their lawns and hoses winter's mud from their automobiles.

Although consumption figures were not to be available until Monday morning when pumping readings are compiled, a spokesman at the main pumping station at 27th and A described the demand as "heavy the last couple of days."

Another spokesman, earlier Sunday, commented that "they hit us pretty hard" Sunday.

He continued that the heavy demand for water indicated that the area was extremely dry. Home owners have been pouring thousands of gallons on lawns throughout the city during the past couple of days.

March was the fifth driest since 1900, with only 25 inch of precipitation recorded by the Weather Bureau.

Police estimated the loss at $125. Mrs. Carl Oeljen of 1425 So. 26th, reported to police that two hubcaps and rims worth $5 were taken from her car parked near to her home.

Britain Plans H-Bomb Drop From Plane

LONDON (Monday) (AP) — The Daily Express said today Britain's first hydrogen bomb will be dropped next year from a jet bomber over the central Pacific Ocean near Christmas Island.

The Express said it may be the first H-bomb ever carried aloft by a plane.

The date of the test has not yet been announced, but the Express said a team of engineers and scientists will leave soon for the isolated atoll.

Christmas Island is part of Britain's Gilbert and Ellice Islands colony, about half way between Australia and the coast of Mexico. The Gilberts lie just south of the Marshall Islands, a center for U.S. nuclear weapons tests.

High in Air — The Express said the bomb will be set to go off three to four miles in the air to "reduce the risk of contaminating the islands and shipping with radioactive dust."

The test is likely to be the biggest peacetime operation in history, involving a huge task force of ships and planes.

"The operation may even mean great danger to the bomber crew, who will have little time to get out of the huge blast zone before the bomb explodes."

"The Americans never yet have dropped an H-bomb from a plane but have exploded them on the ground."

"The Russians claim to have dropped one is believed to be propaganda."

The Express described the test as a "bold gamble on a revolutionary idea in H-bomb design," developed by Britain's No. 1 expert on nuclear fission, Sir William Penney.

"If it succeeds," the Express declared, "it will put Britain far ahead of the Americans—and probably the Russians, too—in superbomb development."

Christmas Island has a 2,400-yard runway of crushed coral built by the U.S. armed forces during World War II. It has a population of 50 to 60 who work on coconut plantations.

The Express said these people probably will be evacuated for security reasons.

MUCH IN AMERICAN EDUCATION COULD BE APPLIED IN SOVIET

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ludmila Doubravina, first deputy minister of education of the Russian Republic, said here Sunday she saw much in American education which might be applied in the Soviet school system.

After a two-weeks visit in this country as guest of the New York Herald Tribune School Forum, Mrs. Doubravina expressed herself as favoring an exchange of delegations between the U.S.S.R. and the United States in the field of primary and secondary education.

"Our experience might be useful to you also," she said, adding she would see to it that any group going to the U.S.S.R. would receive all the facilities it desired to study Russian education. The Russian republic is the largest of the 16 Soviet states.

Mrs. Doubravina, an elderly woman who has worked all her life in the Russian educational system, was interviewed at the Park Avenue building of the Soviet U.N. delegation. Monday she returns by plane to Moscow.

While here she visited various educational institutions in New York and Washington, and talked with American educational leaders and U.S. government leaders in education and social welfare.

She said the American one-story schools were something which Soviet school designers could study with profit. She complimented the schools which she saw for their fine equipment for physical training, and for their kitchens and restaurants.

But she said she found laboratory facilities for science were not up to the same standard as some of the other facilities.

City Christian Scientists Hear Berlin Man

Application of the spiritual truths contained in the Bible can enable mankind to meet today's problems in a practical way, Friedrich Preller of Berlin-Dahlem, Germany, told an audience here Sunday afternoon.

By replacing blind belief with spiritual understanding of God, men and women are gaining new freedom from fear, worry, sickness, lack, and misfortune, Preller declared. During the course of his lecture, he described healings through spiritual means alone of heart trouble, hip disease, and the after effects of accidents.

On extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Preller spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church auditorium. His subject was "Christian Science: Its Healing Message for Men and Nations." He was introduced by Henry Wendland, First Reader of the local church.

To attribute the cause of world problems to various forms of government, to economic inequalities, or to national differences is erroneous, Preller stated.

War, catastrophe, and other problems, he added, are basically nothing more than a multiplication of unsolved individual problems.

"According to Christian Science," he said, "the basis for the solution of any problem, no matter what its nature, is the clear realization that cause and effect are to be found in God alone and that, therefore, good can never result in evil nor can God be the originator of sin, sickness, and death."

Irving P. Krick Associates, Denver-based weather firm, said a cold front approaching from the west combined with extra-dry conditions on the plains, made heavy dust storms likely.

Goodland, Kas., reported visibility reduced to 3 1/2 miles at a mile this afternoon. Gusts faster than 30 miles an hour were reported at Trinidad and Colorado Springs, Colo., and in west-central New Mexico.

Dryness of the area was measured by the Krick firm, which noted the dew point at minus five degrees in Goodland and minus 15 degrees in Denver—below the average for the Sahara Desert.

The Colorado State Highway Patrol said visibility was intermittently poor at many eastern Colorado points Sunday afternoon.

Kefauver Begins Stumping Florida; Primary May 15

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee set out Sunday on a handshaking and speaking tour of Florida to bid for the state's 29 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Kefauver, who meets Adlai Stevenson head-on in Florida's May 29 presidential preference primary, said the former Illinois governor is ahead now, but we're gaining ground.

Before leaving by plane for Jacksonville and a two-day swing through the state, Kefauver told a reporter that his campaign in Florida is "a personal party campaign" to get his organization rolling. The Tennessee races tests in several other primaries before the Florida vote.

In the Florida primary a slate of 26 delegates pledged to President Eisenhower is entered on the Republican side. Florida had 17,000 registered voters in the 1944 Roosevelt election of the 1944-48 Congress and Democrats crossed party lines in 1942 to give Eisenhower a more than 100,000 vote plurality.

Stevenson will make a campaign speech at Jacksonville Friday. His rival for that state's 29 electoral delegates in the May 29 Democratic presidential primary, Sen. Estes Kefauver, flew to Florida Sunday for four days of handshaking and speeches.

Stevenson speaks Monday in Springfield, Ill. He is unopposed in the April 10 Illinois primary, but a Kefauver group will be meeting at about the same time in Springfield to plan a write-in campaign for the Tennessee senator.

Adlai Plans Rest Between Campaigns

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai Stevenson will sandwich three days of rest and visiting friends in southern Georgia between campaign appearances this week in Illinois and Florida, his headquarters said Sunday.

Stevenson and his son, John Fell, 19, home from Harvard University for spring vacation, accepted an invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guggenheim to visit their home in Kingsland, Ga., 30 miles north of Jacksonville, Fla.

Stevenson originally planned a brief vacation in Florida for last week, but cancelled it to fly to California for campaign appearances.

Demos, GOP Hit Ag Bill 'Stall'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans and Democrats accused each other Sunday of stalling election-year farm aid envisioned in President Eisenhower's soil bank program.

The political crossfire came as Senate-House conferees took an Easter recess from their efforts to hammer a single farm proposal out of conflicting bills approved by the House and Senate.

The Republican National Committee said "farmers will be denied the full benefits" of the soil bank plan this year "thanks to a deliberate slowdown by Democrats in Congress led by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota."

Humphrey Replies

Humphrey replied with a statement saying the Eisenhower administration already has ample authority to put the soil bank program into effect.

The political sharpshooting, obviously aimed at farm belt voters, heightened speculation that Congress and the White House might be unable to agree on any new farm legislation this year.

A congressional deadlock or a presidential veto could result in delaying action until the next session of Congress.

The GOP committee contended in its monthly publication Straight From the Shoulder that, "Democrat colleagues joined Sen. Humphrey in stalling as GOP congressmen fought to get a sound bill in the President's hands in time to help farmers this year."

'Direct Victims'

"The nation's farmers, trying to plan their operations in a difficult agricultural year, were the direct victims of these Democrat political tactics," it said.

Humphrey, vacationing in Florida, apparently anticipated the Republican blast. He had a statement ready here contending that the administration could have put its $1, 200,000 soil bank program into operation without new legislation.

All that it needed to do, Humphrey said, was to ask Congress early this year for additional "funds in the President's budget."

"Laws that have been on the books for 20 years include all the authority required to carry out any of the 'soil bank' activities proposed by President Eisenhower," Humphrey said.

Heavy Watering Of Lawns Creates Big Water Demand

Water consumption over the weekend kept the city pumps in action as Lincolnites soaked their lawns, and hosed winter's mud from their automobiles.

Although consumption figures were not to be available until Monday morning when pumping readings are compiled, a spokesman at the main pumping station at 27th and A described the demand as "heavy the last couple of days."

Another spokesman, earlier Sunday, commented that "they hit us pretty hard" Sunday.

He continued that the heavy demand for water indicated that the area was extremely dry. Home owners have been pouring thousands of gallons on lawns throughout the city during the past couple days.

March was the fifth driest since 1900, with only .25 inch of precipitation recorded by the Weather Bureau.

Britain Plans H-Bomb Drop From Plane

LONDON (Monday) (AP)—The Daily Express said today Britain's first hydrogen bomb will be dropped next year from a jet bomber over the central Pacific Ocean near Christmas Island.

The Express said it may be the first H-bomb ever carried aloft by a plane.

The date of the test has not yet been announced, but the Express said a team of engineers and scientists will leave soon for the isolated atoll.

High In Air

The Express said the bomb will be set to go off three to four miles in the air to "reduce the risk of contaminating the islands and shipping with radioactive dust." It added:

"The test is likely to be the biggest peacetime operation in history, involving a huge task force of ships and planes."

"The operation may even mean great danger to the bomber crew, who will have little time to get out of the huge blast zone before the bomb explodes."

"The Americans never yet have dropped an H-bomb from a plane but have exploded them on the ground."

"The Russians claim to have dropped one is believed to be propaganda."

The Express described the test as a "bold gamble on a revolutionary idea in H-bomb design," developed by Britain's No. 1 expert on nuclear fission, Sir William Penney.

"If it succeeds," the Express declared, "it will put Britain far ahead of the Americans—and probably the Russians, too—in superbomb development."

Christmas Island has a 2,400-yard runway of crushed coral built by the U.S. armed forces during World War II. It has a population of 50 to 60 who work on coconut plantations.

The Express said these people probably will be evacuated for security reasons.

MUCH IN AMERICAN EDUCATION COULD BE APPLIED IN SOVIET

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ludmilla Doubrovina, first deputy minister of education of the Russian Republic, said here Sunday she saw much in American education which might be applied in the Soviet school system.

After a two-weeks visit in this country as guest of the New York Herald Tribune School Forum, Mrs. Doubrovina expressed herself as favoring an exchange of delegations between the U.S.S.R. and the United States in the field of primary and secondary education.

"Our experience might be useful to you also," she said, adding she would see to it that any group going to the U.S.S.R. would receive all the facilities it desired to study Russian education. The Russian republic is the largest of the 16 Soviet states.

Mrs. Doubrovina, an elderly woman who has worked all her life in the Russian educational system, was interviewed at the Park Avenue building of the Soviet U.N. delegation. Monday she returns by plane to Moscow.

While here she visited various educational institutions in New York and Washington, and talked with American educational leaders and U. S. government leaders in education and social welfare.

She said the American one-story schools were something which Soviet school designers could study with profit. She complimented the schools which she saw for their fine equipment for physical training, and for their kitchens and restaurants.

But she said she found laboratory facilities for science were not up to the same standard as some of the other facilities.

City Christian Scientists Hear Berlin Man

Application of the spiritual truths contained in the Bible can enable mankind to meet today's problems in a practical way, Friedrich Preller of Berlin-Dahlem, Germany, told an audience here Sunday afternoon.

By replacing blind belief with spiritual understanding of God, men and women are gaining new freedom from fear, worry, sickness, lack, and misfortune, Preller declared. During the course of his lecture, he described healings through spiritual means alone of heart trouble, hip disease, and the after effects of accidents.

On extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Preller spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church auditorium. His subject was "Christian Science: Its Healing Message for Men and Nations." He was introduced by Henry Wendland, First Reader of the local church.

To attribute the cause of world problems to various forms of government, to economic inequalities, or to national differences is erroneous, Preller stated.

War, catastrophe, and other problems, he added, are basically nothing more than a multiplication of unsolved individual problems.

"According to Christian Science," he said, "the basis for the solution of any problem, no matter what its nature, is the clear realization that cause and effect are to be found in God alone and that, therefore, good can never result in evil nor can God be the originator of sin, sickness, and death."

Kefauver Begins Stumping Florida; Primary May 15

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee set out Sunday on a handshaking and speaking tour of Florida to bid for the state's 29 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Kefauver, who meets Adlai Stevenson head-on in Florida's May 29 presidential preference primary, said the former Illinois governor is ahead now "but we're gaining ground."

Before leaving by plane for Jacksonville and a four-day swing through the state, Kefauver told a reporter this first invasion of Florida is "a preliminary campaign" to get his organization rolling. The Tennesseean faces tests in several other primaries before the Florida voting.

In the Florida primary a slate of 26 delegates pledged to President Eisenhower is entered on the Republican side. Florida had 137,000 registered Republicans in 1954. However many of the 1½ million registered Democrats crossed party lines in 1952 to give Eisenhower a more than 100,000 vote plurality.

Another Dust Storm May Hit Southwest

DENVER (INS)—Threat of another dust storm—second in a week—built up Sunday as winds up to 50 miles an hour ripped across Colorado and New Mexico plains into Kansas.

Irving P. Krick Associates, Denver-based weather firm, said a cold front approaching from the west, combined with extra-dry conditions on the plains, made heavy dust storms likely.

Goodland, Kas., reported visibility reduced to 3/16ths of a mile this afternoon. Gusts faster than 50 miles an hour were reported at Trinidad and Colorado Springs, Colo., and in west-central New Mexico.

Dryness of the area was measured by the Krick firm, which noted the dew point at minus five degrees in Goodland and minus 15 degrees in Denver—below the average for the Sahara Desert.

The Colorado State Highway Patrol said visibility was intermittently poor at many eastern Colorado points Sunday afternoon.

Adlai Plans Rest Between Campaigns

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson will sandwich three days of rest and visiting friends in southern Georgia between campaign appearances this week in Illinois and Florida, his headquarters said Sunday.

Stevenson and his son, John Fell, 19, home from Harvard University for spring vacation, accepted an invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guggenheim to visit their home in Kingsland, Ga., 30 miles north of Jacksonville, Fla.

Stevenson originally planned a brief vacation in Florida for last week, but cancelled it to fly to California for campaign appearances.

To Speak

Stevenson will make a campaign speech at Jacksonville Friday. His rival for that state's 29 convention delegates in the May 29 Democratic presidential primary, Sen. Estes Kefauver, flew to Florida Sunday for four days of handshaking and speeches.

Stevenson speaks Monday in Springfield, Ill. He is unopposed in the April 10 Illinois primary, but a Kefauver group will be meeting at about the same time in Springfield to plan a write-in campaign for the Tennessee senator.

Mrs. Guggenheim is Alicia Patterson, publisher of Newsday, a Long Island, N.Y., newspaper that is supporting Stevenson. Ashmore said the Guggenheims are old personal friends of Stevenson and that he doubts there is any political significance to the visit.

National Forests Gross $80,000,000

Grazing Brings Most Income For Nebraska

Receipts from the 149 national forests in the United States were more than $80 millions and expenditures were about $74.5 millions last year, an annual report shows.

The report covers fiscal 1955, the 50th year the U. S. Forest Service has administered the national forests.

In Nebraska, receipts for the year were $63,580.33, with most of the income coming from grazing fees, and the operating budget totaled $62,125.

Money To Counties

Five Nebraska counties received a total of more than $15,000 under the law which prescribes that 25 percent of the national forest receipts be returned to the counties in which the lands are located on an acreage basis.

Nebraska News

The counties are Thomas, Blaine, Cherry, Sioux and Dawes.

There were 174 Nebraska ranchers who paid fees of 66 cents per acre per month for grazing 18,746 head of cattle on national forest lands.

More Irrigation

Because of the 1955 drought—the most severe since the Forest Service started keeping weather records in 1902—more irrigation than usual was necessary.

Some 36,824,000 gallons of water were pumped from wells and from the Middle Loup River for irrigation of seedling trees.

The Nebraska Land Utilization area, 131,439 acres in Dawes and Sioux counties, provided forage for 6,000 head of livestock in 1955.

Conservation practices have been applied to the land, which was purchased during the drought years of the 1930's, and wind erosion has practically been eliminated, the Forest Service report said.

Some 47,320 board feet of lumber and forest products were sold during 1955 in the Land Utilization area.

Cuttings to improve the stand in the national forests in the state enabled the Forest Service to sell 17,280 lineal feet of small forest products.

Tree production at the Bessey Nursery totaled nearly two and a half million, about one and a half million of them under the Clarke-McNary program.

Recreation, Too

An estimated 3,846 persons visited Scott Lookout Tower and 12,895 persons used picnic ground facilities in the Bessey District.

Many persons also visited the swimming pool which is maintained on a co-operative basis with the Blaine and Thomas County Conservation Club.

R. K. Smith, whose offices are in Lincoln, is forest supervisor for the state.

ONE CHANCE OUT OF 100,000

Ogallalans May Vote To Use Sinking Fund For Fire Truck

OGALLALA, Neb. — Ogallala residents will vote Tuesday on a proposal to use approximately $20,000, created in a ten year period as an auditorium sinking fund and no longer needed for that purpose, for purchase of a fire truck. Since the auditorium sinking fund was authorized in 1946, the school district has built an auditorium, used for public gatherings as well as for school functions, and talk of a city auditorium has been stilled.

The Ogallala Volunteer Fire Department has only a 16-year-old truck in addition to a rural fire truck.

The rural truck which may be used to fight fires in Ogallala unless at the same time there is a fire call in the rural district, was out of town for several hours during the fire that destroyed the lumber yard at Sarben March 8.

While 150 pounds pressure at the nozzle is needed for fog, Fire Chief John Hilderbrand points out, the old 1940 city truck is capable of only 50 pounds of pressure.

Repair parts no longer are available from the manufacturer and when needed must be made by hand.

Single candidate

Ogallala voters will elect a mayor, two councilmen, a police judge and two members of the board of education on Tuesday.

The only mayor candidate is Ira T. Humphreys, a present councilman. No police judge candidate appears on the ballot.

Omaha Storekeeper, Wife Foil Would-Be Holdup Man

OMAHA (AP)—An Omaha storekeeper and his wife foiled a holdup man Saturday night by beating him over the head with a bottle. Police said a man walked into the Arrow Food and Liquor Store and started to pull a gun. Proprietor Ben Abrahamson grabbed the man's arm and told his wife to hit the bandit. She struck him with a quart bottle. The would-be holdup man suffered head cuts and he finally was wrestled outdoors and onto the sidewalk.

He got up and ran. Later, police found a stolen car nearby. They said it may have been used by the bandit.

At almost the same time, a bandit had better luck at the Lewis and Smith Drug Company store in downtown Omaha. The stickup man handed a note to clerk Frank Rathbun.

The note said: "All paper money I have a gun." He grabbed about $35 and ran. Minutes later, officers arrested a suspect. The man denied the robbery.

"Tom thinks I'm tops!"

Tom says he wouldn't trade me for a dozen Marilyn Monroes. He just marvels at how I manage to keep our house shining like a new penny and yet have time for so many other things. Really, it's simply a matter of finding faster, easier ways to get my housework done. My wood floors are a good example. I used to cringe at just the thought of all that messy, hard cleaning and waxing until a friend told me about how Bruce Cleaning Wax cleans as it waxes. Imagine, no floor washing at all. better techniques of treatment and especially through the discovery and almost universal use of wonder drugs such as Streptomycin, Isoniazid and Para-aminosalicylic Acid.

The Association points out that it also has been discovered that climate is not a major factor in the treatment of TB.

"Today, the men who have spent their lives in research, diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis are convinced that climate is not necessary in the fight against this disease. Most tuberculars can be successfully treated at or near their homes, regardless of where they live."

Our new plan for free treatment of afflicted Woodmen

Keeping in step with modern medicine, Woodmen of the World is discontinuing operation of its own hospital in favor of a new and better plan for the treatment of its tubercular members. The plan provides that Woodmen with a year or more of membership will receive free treatment at nationally recognized private hospitals in or near their home cities

...or even as outpatients if this treatment is authorized.

This new plan offers many advantages. The most important:

1. Treatment near home and family.
2. Quick, easy access to modern methods in lung surgery.
3. No reacclimatization necessary.

Many members can complete con-

valence at home, benefiting from family contacts and familiar surroundings.

National Forests Gross $80,000,000

Grazing Brings Most Income For Nebraska

Receipts from the 149 national forests in the United States were more than $80 millions and expenditures were about $74.5 millions last year, an annual report shows.

The report covers fiscal 1955, the 50th year the U.S. Forest Service has administered the national forests.

In Nebraska, receipts for the year were $63,580,333, with most of the income coming from grazing fees, and the operating budget totaled $62,125.

Money To Counties

Five Nebraska counties received a total of more than $15,000 under the law which prescribes that 25 per cent of the national forest receipts be returned to the counties in which the lands are located on an acreage basis.

The counties are Thomas, Blaine, Cherry, Sioux and Dawes. There were 174 Nebraska ranchers who paid fees of 66 cents per animal per month for grazing 18,096 head of cattle on national forest lands.

More Irrigation

Because of the 1955 drought—the most severe since the Forest Service started keeping weather records in 1902—more irrigation than usual was necessary.

Some 36,824,000 gallons of water were pumped from wells and from the Middle Loup River for irrigation of seedling trees.

The Nebraska Land Utilization area, 131,439 acres in Dawes and Sioux counties, provided forage for 6,000 head of livestock in 1955.

Conservation practices have been applied to the land, which was purchased during the drought years of the 1930's, and wind erosion has practically been eliminated, the Forest Service report said.

Some 47,520 board feet of lumber and forest products were sold during 1955 in the Land Utilization area.

Cuttings to improve the stand in the national forests in the state enabled the Forest Service to sell 17,280 lineal feet of small forest products.

Tree production at the Bessey Nursery totaled nearly two and a half million, about one and a half million of them under the Clarke-McNary program.

Recreation, Too

An estimated 3,846 persons visited Scott Lookout Tower and 12,395 persons used picnic ground facilities in the Bessey District.

Many persons also visited the swimming pool which is maintained on a co-operative basis with the Blaine and Thomas County Conservation Club.

R. K. Smith, whose offices are in Lincoln, is forest supervisor for the state.

ONE CHANCE OUT OF 100,000

Ogallalans May Vote To Use Sinking Fund For Fire Truck

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Ogallala residents will vote Tuesday on a proposal to use approximately $20,000, created in a ten-year period as an auditorium sinking fund and no longer needed for that purpose, for purchase of a fire truck.

Since the auditorium sinking fund was authorized in 1946, the school district has built an auditorium, used for public gatherings as well as for school functions, and talk of a city auditorium has been stilled.

The Ogallala Volunteer Fire Department has only a 16-year-old truck in addition to a rural fire truck.

The rural truck which may be used to fight fires in Ogallala unless at the same time there is a fire call in the rural district, was out of town for several hours during the fire that destroyed the lumber yard at Sarben March 8.

While 150 pounds pressure at the nozzle is needed for fog, Fire Chief John Hilderbrand points out, the old 1940 city truck is capable of only 50 pounds of pressure.

Repair parts no longer are available from the manufacturer and when needed must be made by hand.

Single Candidate

Ogallala voters will elect a mayor, two councilmen, a police judge and two members of the board of education on Tuesday.

The only mayor candidate is Ira T. Humphreys, a present councilman. No police judge candidate appears on the ballot.

Omaha Storekeeper, Wife Foil Would-Be Holdup Man

OMAHA (AP)—An Omaha storekeeper and his wife foiled a holdup man Saturday night by beating him over the head with a bottle. Police said a man walked into the Arrow Food and Liquor Store and started to pull a gun.

Proprietor Ben Abrahamson grabbed the man's arm and told his wife to hit the bandit.

She struck him with a quart bottle. The would-be holdup man suffered head cuts and he finally was wrestled outdoors and onto the sidewalk.

He got up and ran. Later, police found a stolen car nearby. They said it may have been used by the bandit.

At almost the same time, a bandit had better luck at the Lewis and Smith Drug Company store in downtown Omaha. The stickup man handed a note to clerk Frank Rathbun.

The note said: "All paper money. I have a gun." He grabbed about $55 and ran.

Minutes later, officers arrested a suspect. The man denied the robbery.

No Time To Speed Up

Efforts to wipe out Nebraska's highway speed limits met with a cool reception from Attorney General C. S. Beck, as well they should.

There will be many in Nebraska who will match his coolness to the idea. It does not seem that throwing caution to the winds is indicated at a time when highway safety is of paramount concern and fatalities are running at a level far too high.

Nebraska has had its experience in highway speed—experiments ranging from a top of 45 miles an hour to the present suggestion of whatever speed is reasonable and proper. Currently the law is 50 miles an hour for night driving and 60 for daytime. It has not been demonstrated that a driver's determination of what is reasonable and proper is a safety measure.

As the Nebraska State Safety Council pointed out highway speed is properly determined by the general level of driver competence, the dependability of cars and the built-in safety features of the highway. Especially where life and limb are at stake first things should come first.

Nebraska may be ready to turn the matter of determining highway speed over to the drivers when that day arrives that drivers are ready for that responsibility, but not before.

Warning Of The Military

As times goes on thoughtful Americans will be increasingly appalled by the bleak future painted by the top military men in their week-end advice to Congress.

They were of one voice in telling the House Appropriations Committee that its $35 billion dollar defense budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was not only unrealistic but dangerously underestimated.

Spokesmen for the Army said a half again bigger force is a security must. The Navy pointed to Russia's formidable lead in submarines. General Twining of the Air Force said that if the budget is not upped by several more billions there would be no escape for America. And there would have to take place a drastic change in the present force.

It was to say that if the United States abandoned all other means of foreign aid and all other means of coping with Russian power other than stark military force the savings could not be counted on either to relieve the taxpayer or to guarantee adequate military security. The alternative is an increasing dedication of American effort to self-preservation—the life of an armed camp. This is saying a great deal when one reflects that defense is the largest single item of current budgets.

The statement may be realistic and no nation is prudent to consider its survival as a light-hearted subject. But the least that can be said of it is that this nation without delay needs to undertake a thorough, agonizing study of its defense goals and its methods for arriving at them lest it be engulfed by its own efforts to survive.

Nothing To Gain

"We really would have nothing to gain in a political year by naming Davis. (The reference is to Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence A. Davis of Lincoln.) Nebraska already is pretty solidly Republican. It also is pretty far east"—Extract from a recent story in the New York Times speculating upon the appointment of a successor to Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay, who will resign shortly in order to become a candidate for the United States Senate against Sen. Wayne Morse, one of the prime targets of the Republicans this election year of 1936.

There is more than meets the eye in all of this speculative discussion of the appointment of a successor for Secretary McKay. The New York Times said that if Mr. Davis got the nod for

Of Men And Things

The McCook Gazette makes note of the fact that "the Burlington roundhouse, once the heartbeat of the McCook division of the Burlington, where powerful locomotives were repaired and rebuilt, is today almost completely converted to storage space."

In more ways than one, the huge former Burlington roundhouse at McCook is a symbol of our times. Recent sale of an additional five roundhouse stalls to the Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado Grain Company double the storage space owned by that concern. It took over five stalls a year ago, remodeled them, and they now contain 130,000 bushels of wheat, the Gazette reports. Not too many years ago, the wheat harvest invariably brought about an acute shortage of boxcars since the common practice was to market the wheat while the thrasher and the threshing crew were in the field. All that has changed. Not only that, but railroad operations as well. Before the advent of the diesel engine, the McCook roundhouse could provide for 30 steam locomotives to be overhauled at one time, with a crew of between 500 and 600 machinists and mechanics engaged in the work. When first constructed, the McCook roundhouse boasted of 15 stalls—later it was enlarged to include an additional 15. Instead of a payroll of between 500 and 600, the Gazette notes, it has been reduced to only 10. Most of the repair work now is handled either in Chicago or in Burlington, Ia., a reflection of the trend to house under one roof. Nor is McCook alone. Change is a very important part of the American scene.

We haven't the slightest idea whether Edward R. Murrow started out in cold, calculating spirit to "smear" Secretary of Agriculture Benson in his recent farm TV program. No such doubts assail Sterling McCaw of the Norfolk News. To suit his purpose, McCaw writes, Murrow went into the drought area of Iowa, televised the sale of a farm home by a mechanic who had decided to buy a new car, drive to California and go into auto repairing. Then he adds "had Murrow been at a certain Nebraska town the other day, he would have been able to picture the sale of a 160-acre farm for $340 an acre—and still another for $360 an acre." We do not know what that proves, if anything, to Mr. McCaw. It would have been much more convincing to prove the point he wants to prove had he himself been the purchaser of both farms.

Vacationing in Arizona, Hyde Sweet of the Nebraska City News-Press plucks these choice posies for some of his Republican friends, in commenting on the report that Ike was to be entered in the Nebraska primary: "The job will not be well done, however, until Dick Nixon's name is entered along with the prexy's." Mr. Sweet opines. . . . "By registering Nixon, the 'Old Guard' in Nebraska, the Die-hards, and all those who flirt with the Pinkos will be put on the spot. . . . Of course the 'Old Guarders,' who have controlled the state organization since 1940, dare not say too much now about Ike's incapacities as they did in 1952, and emphasize with a few long-knife demonstrations in the convention and out of it, but some of the ladies and gents who essay to represent us rank and filers may be driven out into the open to fight Nixon. . . ." Mr. Sweet should swell up like a poisoned puz. He knows a lot about what happened in 1952 at the convention in Chicago that others do not know. . . . If we remember correctly about the 1952 Republican presidential primary in Nebraska, the late Robert Taft topped all the candidates. . . . Ike, a write-in, polled a heavy vote, but that was all.

Some of the members of the Nebraska delegation seemed to think they should have cast one for Taft since he was high man on the totem pole. . . . What a naive idea! Why should anyone abide by primary results?

McKay's post, his nomination by President Eisenhower would spark a bitter battle in the Senate when the question of confirmation came up.

Secretary McKay, since publication of that Times story, has indicated openly that he is in favor of the appointment of Davis. And why not? Much of the criticism of the conduct of the Department of Interior has developed while McKay and Davis worked closely together in direction of the department. We have the notion that as a matter of fact, Mr. Davis had a great deal more to do with formulating Department of Interior policy than Secretary McKay himself. But that is a guess, one of those guesses which naturally must remain a guess.

In encouraging Secretary McKay to become a candidate against Sen. Morse, there is some evidence to suggest that the Administration is not altogether unhappy that McKay is leaving the Cabinet. He was quoted in one news story as saying that his opinion with reference to a successor has not been requested by the President. There is no reason why Mr. Eisenhower should seek Mr. McKay's opinion particularly, but it would not have occasioned surprise if Mr. Eisenhower had sought counsel from his retiring secretary.

Personally, we are inclined to believe that former Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska, defeated in his bid for a Senate seat by the late Hugh Butler and reputedly side-tracked in his ambition for a place in the Eisenhower Cabinet, would be of greater service to the 17 reclamation states, including Nebraska, than any other man Mr. Eisenhower might name. At least Mr. Peterson was active in Missouri Basin development and actually knew something about it, which is more than can be said for others now mentioned in connection with the post.

The Bright Child

The Lincoln Board of Education has asked the State Department of Education to give thought and aid to the elite student—the one who learns faster and better than the average.

On the grounds that he is an exception—just as is the retarded child—the Lincoln board holds that he is entitled to attention commensurate with his ability.

It is an interesting question, not at all new in a situation where education is geared to the average as the public schools are and must be. It is difficult to speculate on the outcome. The practical answer has eluded a great deal of hard thinking though undeniably constructive action is a desirable end.

There is this much to say in behalf of the bright exception. While his elders grope for answers he carries within himself unusual powers of self-help and has the best chances of all to emerge from his problem with the least harm. That does not justify inattention to his need, but it softens the detriment of delay.

Better Wait

That New York bank which several weeks ago mislaid a million dollars still can't find it. Despite the fact that the world is going on just the same it must be dreadfully embarrassing to those bankers who like all bankers are especially sensitive to the arithmetic of money. If you don't think so try to get away with an overdraft, or a deposit that doesn't add up, or remit three cents less than the exact interest due. Otherwise all we can say is that with this inflation steadily but quietly going on that bank will be better off to quit worrying and looking for yesterday's million dollars. It won't be of any consequence a few years from now. It can pay it off out of the postage stamp fund.

Missiles Chieftain Was Once Quizzed

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Defense Wilson and President Eisenhower have picked a man with an interesting prewar background as the new czar for guided missiles. He is Eger V. Murphree of Esso Standard Oil, who happens to be the same Murphree who was hauled up before a Senate committee after Pearl Harbor for working with the Nazis in developing high-octane gasoline and not entirely cooperating with the U.S. Air Corps.

Murphree was the man in charge of the gasoline experiments with the big Nazi cartel, I. G. Farben, though the major policy was dictated by his superiors, Frank A. Howard, president of Standard Development Co., and William S. Farish, president of Standard Oil of New Jersey. He came out of the investigation considerably better than they did.

The Senate Patents Committee, under the chairmanship of Sen. Homer Bone of Washington, now retiring as a judge from the 9th circuit court of appeals, conducted a vigorous investigation of why the U.S.A. was caught short with so little high-octane gasoline production and no production of synthetic rubber, magnesium, and other vital defense products immediately after Pearl Harbor.

They found that various big corporations, chiefly Standard Oil and the Aluminum Corporation, had entered into secret contracts with I.G. Farben to exchange patents and to restrict use of these patents in the United States.

Thus with Hitler on the march in Europe, and with many observers believing war inevitable, Standard Oil was slow in making available to the U.S. armed services its patent arrangements with Nazi industrialists which would have been of tremendous aid in preparing for war before Pearl Harbor.

Murphree, the new guided missiles czar, was part of this picture and the contact man on technical matters between I.G. Farben and Standard Development Company.

Senator Bone's committee, probing these secret deals with the Nazis, ran across a confidential memo written in March 1953 by President Frank Howard of Development Co., to Farish and Walter Teagle, heads of the parent company, in which Howard told how the Air Corps had approached him about beginning the production of 100 octane gasoline.

As early as 1935, the Army, realizing the importance which aviation gasoline would play in future war, wanted to get a start on the rest of the world.

But Howard, discussing the Air Corps' proposal with other Standard Oil officials wrote:

"It seems that the only practical way to handle this problem is to avoid carrying out the operation of producing 100 octane number aviation gasoline commercially as long as possible. We would, of course, also have to breach our agreements to render full and complete technical reports to all the companies associated with us (even to the American companies, far fear of leakage)." MARQUIS CHILDS

Murphree Facing Tough Assignment

WASHINGTON — If ever a newcomer to Washington headed into a tough assignment it is Eger V. Murphree, who has been named to direct and co-ordinate the development of long-range ballistic missiles.

These missiles have been called the ultimate weapons—a rocket with an atomic or a hydrogen warhead, guided electronically through the upper atmosphere to a target several hundred or thousand miles away.

Murphree will be a dollar-a-year man on a year's leave of absence from his job as president of the Esso Research and Engineering Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Directly responsible to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson with a staff of perhaps 10, Murphree will be confronted at the outset by the rivalry of Army, Navy and Air Force, each with its own missile program.

In the short space of a year—short as these fierce under-ground rivalries between the services go—Murphree will have to play Solomon and decide the parentage and ultimate control of the new weapons.

Except for a dramatic appearance at one of the most critical moments of the war, Murphree is a newcomer to Washington headlines. At the darkest moment of World War II, in the summer of 1942 when German submarines were sinking American ships directly off our Atlantic Coast and Hitler's armies were sweeping across Russia, Murphree appeared with other Standard Oil executives before a Senate committee inquiring into cartel and patent agreements with Nazi Germany.

Tax Arithmetic Just Rules Out Joe

NEW YORK—Sportin' Around . . .

What's Joe Louis griping about? He can pay Sam that $1,000,000 tax he owes simply by getting himself a fight in which his share alone would be $11,000,000. Since he'd have to take the short end of the purse, being the challenger, the fight might have to do about $50,000,000.

Joe would clear $1,015,180 out of his $11,000,000. He'd have $15,180 left over after he paid Sam, and the only worry he'd have left would be paying Ave. The New York state tax would be something else again . . .

When 155 delegates of 4,000 Little Leagues met for their first annual Congress in Chicago last weekend they focused attention on this remarkable baseball program for boys 10 through 12 years of age. One tenth of all the lads in this age bracket in the U.S. and Canada now play little league ball. And the list is growing daily.

Little league ball is sports for the whole family. Parents, older brothers, uncles and the like participate as managers, coaches, umpires, groundkeepers, directors, scorekeepers and so forth. More than 75,000 volunteers regulate and supervise these wonderful ball games.

The Chicago meeting drew a lawyer from Birmingham, Ala., a banker from Texas, an insurance executive from Oregon, a railroader from Winslow, Ariz., a candy manufacturer from Joplin, Mo., an electrician from Minneapolis, an editor from Green Bay, Wis., a doctor from Des Moines and a tax collector from Maryland.

Plus an industrial leader from Indianapolis, a recreation director from Lexington, Ky., a radio commentator from Tennessee, an Air Force major from Virginia, an optometrist from Westley, R.I., two sports writers from Massachusetts, a school teacher from Syracuse, a hardware store owner from Pennsylvania, a reporter from Michigan and dozens of others who help make this great operation click.

Little league players are teaching their elders in baseball a whole new code of ethics and good deportment. As little league graduates move on into the minor and big leagues, the whole tone of the sport will be enhanced. In spring training at the moment are four former little leaguers—Joey Jay of the Braves, Bob Turley and Bill Skowron of the Yankees, and Herb Flews of the Senators.

About to begin training are more than 500,000 little leaguers spread around the globe. Sports missionaries have planted little leagues in Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Venezuela, Panama, Cuba, Germany and England. Some of the liveliest moments in Lowell Thomas' new cinema production "The Seven Wonders of The World," is a little league game played in Saudi Arabia with King Saud and a couple dozen of his younger sons in the stands. BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Mr. Average Citizen And Streets

In addition to a list of projects which must be included in any street improvement program, the City Council will have several other related subjects to consider.

While it has been previously pointed out, little thought has yet been given to availability of funds for street resurfacing during the next 10 years if all money is tied up in one overall improvement program. When the more than $10 million improvement program was outlined by City Engineer Carl Fisher, he noted that financing of the plan would leave nothing for other resurfacing for the next decade unless revenues exceeded present estimates.

As they are based on current gas tax and auto registration fee income, revenues will likely exceed Fisher's estimates. However, it is doubtful that the excess would approach $100,000 a year—the figure Public Works Director D. L. Erickson quoted as the annual need for routine resurfacing.

And just as likely, if not more so, than an increase in revenues is an increase in the estimate of cost of the various projects in the street improvement program. Unless past experience completely reverses itself, the projects in the program will end up costing quite a bit more than is now figured on.

When the widening of O east of 27th was estimated about a month ago, it was to cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. Now the figure is in excess of $900,000. This is no criticism of Fisher who prepared the estimates as there were circumstances involved which materially affected the cost and of which he had no knowledge or control.

However, it does serve to show that even under the best conditions, estimates are just that and nothing more and are no more reliable in one case than in the other.

If the city gets itself into a major street improvement program which calls for the elimination of regular annual resurfacing and maintenance of existing streets, it will also be asking for a lot of headaches. Under such conditions, there would be just criticism of a plan whereby fine arterials were provided in one place while other streets were left to rot.

Any sensible improvement program would provide for annual replacement and maintenance as well as new construction. The Council would be foolhardy to rush into any program which failed to make ample provision for both.

At some stage before construction is actually started on any program the Council will also have to decide the priority of various projects. In recommending a program in excess of $9 million, the Planning Commission listed the completion of the northeast and southeast radials as the No. 1 projects on its list.

The Commission demonstrated little if anything in support of any part of its program except the personal opinion of seven or eight people, but one of the most difficult things to understand is the group's priority for the northeast diagonal. Since money already spent on the southeast radial would be wasted unless the job is now completed, there is some sense to going ahead with that project.

However, the commission would also spend in excess of $2.5 million, an estimate which seems to be very conservative, on the northeast radial before it tackled such long-standing trouble spots as East O, No. 27th, Randolph, South, the opening of 35th to South and other areas of constant complaint from the driving public.

Before it is too late, somebody in the City Hall had better give some thought to what the people of Lincoln want rather than what a handful think they want or should have. The people of Lincoln have demonstrated they like one-way streets; yet they are still the most difficult projects to put across. The people of Lincoln have demonstrated as well that they want diagonal parking; yet they constantly get more parallel parking.

In the same way, they get 30-minute parking meters when they want two-hour meters, signal lights where they don't want them and none where they do and parking prohibitions for dozens of reasons. There is nothing, of course, that would satisfy everyone and the traffic plan in Lincoln is certainly far from the worst nor is it all wrong, but it does seem that the desires of the public seldom get much attention.

When the Council places this multi-million-dollar street program before the voters, it is going to have to be something they want and think they need, not what the book says they should have.

A new northeast radial would be nice but it would do little for the driver who travels the bumps and holes of South Street or creeps along No. 48th through University Place because the single lane of traffic won't permit him to pass the car ahead.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am interested in the proposal for a new library building. If the voters give their approval to a bond issue for a new building, what is the thinking with reference to the present site and the library building occupying it? It will make a difference to me when I go to vote what disposal is made of the present main library facilities.

T.W.A.
Editor's Note: Although no definite decision has been reached relative to exact procedure in the library board, present thinking is to sell both the building and the land it occupies. There are three full lots belonging to the library at this time, a valuable site. But ultimate decisions as to what will be done with the building and the lots in all likelihood must await a vote on the question of issuing bonds sufficient to provide a new library building.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: Being president of the Filley Methodist Youth Fellowship, I was interested in the picture and article about the "mystery cross" near Filley (Friday morning Star, March 30). This cross was put up by our Youth Fellowship and we conduct our Easter sunrise services there each year. You might be interested in knowing that about two years ago lightning struck the tree beside the cross, damaging the tree severely, and yet the cross remained unharmed.

Thank you for this article.
JANICE ARMSTRONG

Forgotten Man

Anselmo, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Republicans keep repeating that farm price supports were only made as a war measure and should have been removed as soon as the war ended. Where do they get such ideas?

Benson is saying that during World War II farm prices were fixed to promote production. He hopes everyone forgets what Republicans did after World War I. President Wilson had a price of $2 a bushel fixed on wheat to encourage farmers, as wheat was badly needed. And the farmers produced the wheat and won the war. Although the world price of wheat went to $3 a bushel, farmers never complained.

But as soon as Republicans took control, they said farm prices were too high and must be reduced. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon declared that raw materials must be cheap so factories could compete with cheap foreign labor, so Federal Reserve banks were instructed to refuse all credit to farmers and force them to sell out, while credit was advanced to all industries.

All speculation was encouraged in every other industry, but farmers were forced out of business. Have Republicans changed any? They enjoy helping Big Business, but what happened after farmers were forced out? Every other business stopped. Republicans did nothing about it, but just said prosperity was around the corner.

Now they say that after a few years farmers can start over again, but farmers and other businessmen couldn't wait. They stopped sales of farms, would allow no forced sales. Tractors were stopped on the highways and the milk or other produce dumped into ditches; wheat that was offered only 25 cents a bushel was dumped into the streets; a revolution was starting; all banks were closing. It was time for a change and people called for a new deal. Roosevelt was elected; in four days banks were opened; a guarantee law was passed; a price of 45 cents a bushel was fixed on corn; parity prices were established and supported, so all business revived. Did Mr. Benson ever hear of this? Why does he say farm support was only a war measure?

Republican ideas, or Mr. Benson's ideas, don't seem to have changed any since Secretary Mellon's time. It always sounds rather familiar. They never like any new deal. They always forget the common man, the "forgotten man."

M. S. DAILY

Third Party

Broken Bow, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: "Stars Over Texas," who is right; who is wrong? We little Democrats out in the state would like to know.

Is the United States of Texas going to settle our hash among themselves?

What about Stevenson and Kefauver? Where do they come in while the Big Boys battle for supremacy among themselves?

I'll say it is confusing. "Whatever happens we are in Rep. Rurn's corner." I wonder?

Why doesn't The Star let us in on the battle royal? You know we little voters might misconstrue the real intent and purpose of the diversion among the millionaire oil kings.

Yet again, what have Stevenson and Kefauver got to battle over that we little voters have not been wised up about? There is a screw loose in the Democratic camp. The GOP's are probably laughing up their sleeves and biding their time.

Mr. Arnold of Oklahoma's mention of a third party (Star, Mar. 30) is a far fetched probable in the offing.

We would suggest contacting the Non-Partisan League, and the Farmers Union. They may be ripe for a third party to bust the collusion among the Big Boys. Don't forget one thing: those Big Boys have the millions to spend and do not hesitate when any danger from the outside threatens.

They can easily lay aside any difference among themselves and collaborate. They certainly did it when they collaborated with Ike and his Republicans—a non-partisan fusion in union for self advantage.

Wisconsin Ballot Is Ike-Estes Popularity Contest

... Might Reflect Farm Unrest

By ARTHUR BYSTROM
MILWAUKEE (U. P.) — Wisconsin's presidential preference primary Tuesday is shaping up as a popularity contest between President Eisenhower and Estes Kefauver with a possibility it may reflect farm unrest.

The only major delegate slates entered in the Republican and Democratic elections are pledged to the President, and to the senator from Tennessee who two weeks ago scored a surprising upset in winning the bulk of Minnesota's Democratic delegates.

President Eisenhower's slate is composed of 30 of the state's leading Republicans. It has opposition from a group headed by John Chapple, Ashland publisher, as a favorite son, but this slate is regarded as only a token entry.

As the Kefauver slate of 56 delegate candidates has no opposition in the Democratic primary, the contest therefore will resolve itself into a popularity test between the two leaders.

No Write-In
There are no provisions on Wisconsin's ballots in this election for write-in votes for president or vice president or for slates other than those which have filed and are printed on the ballot.

The victorious GOP delegates will get 30 votes at the national convention. The Democratic delegates will get one-half vote each at their convention as Wisconsin has only 28 votes at that session. Wisconsin election laws do not provide for party registration of voters so there could be a large crossover of people who previously voted Republican to the Democratic ranks.

Democrats claim this will happen, particularly in the farm vote which is about 30 per cent of the state's total, as a protest of the administration's agriculture policy which they contend has resulted in lower income to Wisconsin farmers.

Rugged Fight
In the 1952 primary, Republicans had a rugged three-way fight by delegates pledged to the late Sen. Taft, (R-Ohio), Earl Warren, then governor of California, and Harold E. Stassen. In addition there were two minor favorite son slates.

The Democratic primary had Sen. Kefauver backed by a full slate with only token opposition from two minor favorite sons.

The Republican candidates polled 776,624 votes in that campaign while Kefauver and the two Democratic favorite sons polled 241,525.

This election showed the Republicans getting about 75 per cent of the total vote. Later in November, President Eisenhower carried the state over Adlai Stevenson by a vote of 579,744 to 522,175. The Republicans had about 61 per cent of the total vote in that election.

Hoping For Increase
Leaders of both parties know that the 75 per cent of the total the Republicans rolled up in the primary was far from an accurate division of the state's voters. It was due primarily to the contests in the Republican ranks that saw all of the major candidates devoting several weeks to campaigns in Wisconsin. Kefauver did little campaigning.

Democrats are hoping to increase the 1952 percentage considerably. If they can do so, particularly in the rural areas, it could be interpreted as a swing to the Democrats by many Wisconsin farmers who usually vote Republican.

Most election experts expect less than 600,000 votes. The state has about 2,200,000 eligible voters.

POSTCARD

For the purposes of celebration, this is National Arts and Crafts Week, National Conservation Week and the Spring Festival of Gas Ranges, National Boys' Club Week, Cereal and Milk Spring Festival, And Friday is Army Day.

Also Honey for Breakfast Week. This gives everybody a chance to celebrate. Conservatives, boys, soldiers and employees of the gas company. However, I have decided to celebrate honey.

Honey has a fuel value of 1520 calories per pound and thus is sheer murder for anyone on a diet. It is indispensable though to bees and song writers.

It is also a major proposition with the American Honey Institute of Madison, Wis. And this morning I called them up to see how honey is doing these days.

Tell you the truth, honey, I never did find out.

I got a very nice young lady on the phone.

"Do you know anything about honey, Madam?" I said.

"No," she said, "I don't. Mrs. Grece is the director."

"Where is Mrs. Grece?"

"She is out of the city."

"How long will she be gone?"

"She will return Wednesday. May I ask who is calling?"

"You may. I am a honey eater."

I thought I would ask the Institute what's new with honey.

"Why don't you call Mr. John Long at the State Capitol?"

"Does he know?"

"If anyone does. He's in the Bee and Honey Section."

At this point, I broke down.

Honey, it has been my experience that when government gets into these things, you find it on your tax bill. I think it is interesting, though. That up in Madison, Mr. John Long sits in his own section, worrying for the taxpayers about the bees and the honey.

So far as I know, nobody in my State is worried about bees and honey. I have to do all the worrying myself.

I come from an old stock of worriers about honey.

During the California gold rush, my great grandpa gave me some thought to honey. He wrote it down in his diary.

He dug gold but he was constantly on the lookout for proof of the Scriptures. He said:

"I never fully understood the story of Samson's lion and honey until I saw the skeleton and hide of an ox that had sunk into the earth when it was soft in '49 and could not get out and so starved to death. The hide with the hair on was still all along the back where it originally grew, making a perfect waterproof roof. And bees could have deposited honey in the ox skeleton under the hide roof as I suppose they did in the lion that Samson rent asunder with his hands.

Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness. My grandfather quoted soberly. But he added, "I would rather eat honey made in pound sections."

I have been wondering what happened to honey in the comb, honey in sections. I certainly wish Mrs. Grece had been around to tell me.

Nowadays it seems to me I get my honey for breakfast out of glass jars. The spoon always drips. And there is always a trail of honey that runs down the jar. Honey is a messy business, honey. And you cannot cure it by putting it under glass.

Now if you would fix me up some old-time honey in squares with the wax on top that you could chew afterward. Like chewing gum. Then I am your honey-for-breakfast man. Any celebrating week, honey, any week.

For the purposes of celebration, this is National Arts and Crafts Week, National Conservation Week and the Spring Festival of Gas Ranges. National Boys' Club Week, Cereal and Milk Spring Festival. And Friday is Army Day.

Also Honey for Breakfast Week, honey.

This gives everybody a chance to celebrate. Conservatives, boys, soldiers and employees of the gas company. However, I have decided to celebrate honey.

Honey has a fuel value of 1520 calories per pound and thus is sheer murder for anyone on a diet. It is indispensable though to bees and song writers.

It is also a major proposition with the American Honey Institute of Madison, Wis. And this morning I called them up to see how honey is doing these days.

Tell you the truth, honey, I never did find out.

I got a very nice young lady on the phone.

"Do you know anything about honey, Madam?" I said.

"No," she said, "I don't. Mrs. Grece is the director."

"Where is Mrs. Grece?"

"She is out of the city."

"How long will she be gone?"

"She will return Wednesday. May I ask who is calling?"

"You may. I am a honey eater. I thought I would ask the Institute what's new with honey."

"Why don't you call Mr. John Long at the State Capitol?"

"Does he know?"

"If anyone does. He's in the Bee and Honey Section."

At this point, I broke down, honey. It has been my experience that when government gets into these things, you find it on your tax bill. I think it is interesting, though. That up in Madison, Mr. John Long sits in his own section, worrying for the taxpayers about the bees and the honey.

So far as I know, nobody in my State is worried about bees and honey. I have to do all the worrying myself.

I come from an old stock of worriers about honey.

During the California gold rush, my great grandpa gave some thought to honey. He wrote it down in his diary.

He dug gold but he was constantly on the lookout for proof of the Scriptures. He said:

"I never fully understood the story of Samson's lion and honey until I saw the skeleton and hide of an ox that had sunk into the earth when it was soft in '49 and could not get out and so starved to death. The hide with the hair on was still all along the back where it originally grew, making a perfect waterproof roof. And bees could have deposited honey in the ox skeleton under the hide roof as I suppose they did in the lion that Samson rent asunder with his hands.

"Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness," my grandfather quoted soberly. But he added, "I would rather eat honey made in pound sections."

I have been wondering what happened to honey in the comb, honey in sections. I certainly wish Mrs. Grece had been around to tell me.

Nowadays it seems to me I get my honey for breakfast out of glass jars. The spoon always drips. And there is always a trail of honey that runs down the jar. Honey is a messy business, honey. And you cannot cure it by putting it under glass.

Now if you would fix me up some old-time honey. In squares with the wax on top that you could chew afterward. Like chewing gum. Then I am your honey-for-breakfast man. Any celebrating week, honey, any week.

Wedding On Sunday

Easter appointments formed the background for the wedding of Miss Gwendolyn Jean Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Malone, and Louis E. Stephenson of Michigan City, Ind., which took place at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, April 1, at the Prairie Home Methodist Church. Dr. Victor West read the lines of the service and Mrs. William Malone, who played the wedding music, also accompanied the vocal soloist, Charles R. Putney.

Mrs. William Fahleson of Waverly was the matron of honor and appeared in a frock of soft blue crystalite. Miss Janet Malone, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Mervin Reed lighted the candles, and the bride's niece, Georgia Ann Whyman, was the flower girl. Alan Malone carried the rings.

Andrew Morrow of Fremont served Mr. Stephenson as best man, and seating the guests were James Malone and Paul Malone, brothers of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of ice-blue tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with a deep portrait neckline contoured with an applique motif of lace and the extremely bouffant skirt was waist-length. Her fingertip veil of blue illusion was held to the head with a small heart-shaped hat of lace, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with orchids.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Stephenson and his bride left for an Easter honeymoon trip and upon their return to Lincoln they will reside at 2046 So. Conner.

Mr. Stephenson is a former student at Purdue University.

PTA To Hear Speaker

For the wedding of Miss Alyce Bengston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bengston of Oakland, and Albert Duane Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howard of Holmesville, which took place on Sunday afternoon, April 1, the chancel of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Uehling was appointed with Easter lilies and lighted candles in seven-branched holders. Bows of satin ribbon marked the processional aisle on either side. The Rev. Hugo Weichert solemnized the 4 o'clock service and Mrs. John Runderhagen, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Runderhagen also accompanied Mrs. James G. Smith of Lincoln, the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Fred Arnold of Ashland was the matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Arnold's waist-length frock was of blue crystal-

Fred Arnold of Ashland served as best man, and the ushers included Frederick Bengston, and Keith Howard of Holmesville.

The bride appeared in a gown of embroidered cotton. The bodice, designed with a neckline that was low and rounded in the front and extended into a deep V in the back, was smoothly fitted under a short fitted jacket of embroidered cotton. Beneath the slender waist the skirt flared into waist-length fullness. The half hat of seed pearls held to the head her veil of silk illusion and she carried a white prayerbook ornamented with white roses and blue-fringed carnations.

For the brief honeymoon trip, after which Mr. Howard and his bride will reside at 3048 R St., Lincoln, Mrs. Howard wore a navy print silk frock, with navy faille topper and navy and white accessories.

Lecture Circle Plans Program

Members of the Thursday Morning Lecture Circle will meet at 10 o'clock, next Thursday, at the YWCA, to hear a talk by Dr. Paul M. Bancroft. Dr. Bancroft's topic will be, "The Study of the Epidemiology of Poliomyelitis."

EASTER week begins rather auspiciously in spite of the fact that the forepart of it holds nothing startling in the way of activity. The past week-end was gay with things we already have mentioned — the festive affair for which Mr. and Mrs. James Nicola and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sten were hosts, and hostesses — on Saturday evening when they honored Mr. and Mrs. William Gold II — the Easter guests, family celebrations — and such —

Early week does have its pleasant aspects — however — This evening, for example, the Colonial Dancing Club will dine and dance at Hotel Cornhusker — and on Wednesday evening the Fifty Fifty Club will have its monthly dinner and bridge at the University Club.

BUT back to the Colonial Club and its party — Planning the affair is a committee composed of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGinnis, chairman, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Thorough, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sheldon Hallett, Mr. and Mrs. William Morton, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fijan, Mr. and Mrs. Earle V. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reed, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cramer and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Becker.

Guests of the club will be Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weaver, Jr., and Mrs. James Kissell.

were coming to Lincoln their respective families both mentioned they had friends in Lincoln — As it turned out the friends of Cmdr. O'Neill's Texas family and Mrs. O'Neill's California family were one and the same — the Doles.

It seen, that Mrs. O'Neill's father, H. H. Anderson, now of San Mateo, Calif., was a classmate of Capt. T. J. Doyle, USN (Ret.) at Annapolis. The pattern that wove the friendship between the Commander's family and the Doles we don't know at this moment — but we suspect that it also was Navy.

HEAR that Mrs. Sidney Burnham and her daughter, Mary of Quincy, Ill., arrived a few days ago for a visit with Mrs. Burnham's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Martha Jane Ramey has announced that her marriage to Robert E. Roselius of Platte, S. D., will be an event of Saturday, May 26. The ceremony will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Second Presbyterian Church.

For her matron of honor, Miss Ramey has chosen her sister, Mrs. Wayne Kivker of Reynolds, and Miss Doris Brown of Chicago will be her bridesmaid. Miss Kathy Kivker will attend her aunt as flower girl.

Cleon Roselius will serve his brother as best man and seating the guests will be Norman Strand of Centerville, S. D., and Ne. Trauer.

will be Miss Donna Kraska and Miss Bonnie Allgaver.

Junior Nelson will serve Mr. Johnson as best man and the ushers will be Howard Hough and Glenn Grenemeier.

IN the its a small world department — Among Lincoln's very new newcomers are Cmdr. and Mrs. John T. O'Neill and their three sons, Michael, Stephen and Kevin who were transported from Quonset Point, R. I., to 4160 Dunn Ave.

When it was learned that Cmdr. O'Neill and his family

Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Dubinsky are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Joyce, to James Rodenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodenberg of Miami Beach, Fla.

A former student at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass. Miss Dubinsky is now attending Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Rodenberg is a graduate of the University of Miami College of Law, and is practicing law in Miami, Fla.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

If you have wondered, as have we, who resides in the attractive homes on the streets that wind and curve and circle in the area just a little east and north of Bethany — we have the answer. At least we have part of the answer, for this morning we have news of some of the residents who dwell in Cotner Terrace addition — There are such streets as Willow, Gladstone, Fremont and Way — there is Shirley Court and Strauss Court, and then there are just plain addresses such as North Sixty-eight — Sixty-nine — others in the high fifties and the lower sixties —

But we are not so concerned with the streets as we are with the people — So we went calling — and we found more than a little activity — We learned that Mr. and Mrs. Dale Scheer, their two children, Dennis and Cindy, accompanied by Miss Lee Adell Scheer, left on Saturday to spend the Easter week-end with Mr. Scheer's grandfather, Fred Mehl, in Arlington.

And off to Crete to spend Easter went Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hense and their two children Cynthia and Steven, who were the guests of Mrs. Hense's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cech.

To Syracuse for the Easter holiday went Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kirby and their daughters, Diane and Cheryl, who spent the week-end as the guests of Mrs. Kirby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartels.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pratt, we learned, were quite content to remain at home for the Easter holiday — and for quite a wonderful reason — The Pratts have a brand new baby son, David Lynn, who accompanied his mother, home from the hospital a few days ago.

And that reminds us that Mrs. Pratt's mother, Mrs. John Ballou, left late last week to return to her home in Wagonville after spending several days getting acquainted with her grandson.

Leaving for their home in Axte on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Larson who had been spending the past several weeks as the guests of the son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Almqvist.

But Mr. and Mrs. Almqvist are not to be without house-guests this week — Mr. Almqvist's mother, Mrs. V. E. Almqvist of Norman arrived on Sunday to spend a few days at the home of her son and daughter-in-law. She will be joined here next week-end by Mr. Almqvist who will accompany her back to Norman.

And speaking of guests — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brodd had overnight visitors last Tuesday when they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Manske of Greenwood.

There is more news of the Brodds, however — Mr. and Mrs. Brodd and their son, Merlin divided the Easter week-end between Mr. Brodd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brodd of Ashland — and Mrs. Brodd's mother, Mrs. Frank Semence in Ceresco. Another Brodd son, Lauren has been spending his week of Easter vacation with his grandmother in Ceresco.

Another guest our Cotner Terrace way is Mrs. Raymond Stinson who came from Tecumseh to be the Easter week-end guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stinson.

Understand that a sewing club is meeting next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Albert Nelson, and that in the group will be Mrs. Nelson, of course — Mrs. Harold Connolly, Mrs. Wendell Sipp, Mrs. T. E. Hanneman and Mrs. George Anderson.

MISS HELEN PATRICIA QUINN whose marriage to Gerald Joseph Watton will be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral this morning.

A profusion of Easter lilies, combined with greenery, will appoint the altar and chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral where the wedding of Miss Helen Patricia Quinn, daughter of Mrs. John Edward Quinn of Cozad, and Gerald Joseph Watton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Watton of Dawson, will take place this morning. The 10 o'clock service will be solemnized by the Rev. John Flynn, and Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, will play the wedding music and also accompany the vocal soloist, Louis Demma.

The alike frocks of the attendants, Mrs. Don Ogle Jr., the matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Watton of Dawson, sister of the bridegroom, the maid of honor, are fashioned of mauve pink crystalite. Above the bouffant, ballerina skirts the bodices are snugly fitted. They will carry colonial bouquets of pink roses encircled with feathered pink carnations.

John O'Grady will serve Mr. Watton as best man, and Karl Hansen of Manhattan, Kan., will be the groomsmen. The guests will be seated by Lee Ogle of Humboldt, and James O'Grady. Given in marriage by her brother, John C. Quinn of Olathe, Kan., the bride will wear a gown of re-embroidered French Chantilly lace over taffeta. The empire mode is suggested in the long-sleeved, sculptured bodice in which a heart-shaped neckline is embroidered with sequins, and the voluminous skirt extends into a wide, chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion is held to the head with a tiara of seed pearls and she will carry a white prayerbook ornamented with American Beauty roses.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the church Hall after which there will be a wedding breakfast for only the immediate families at Hotel Lincoln.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the southwest and west, for which the bride will wear a gray suit and black accessories, the couple will go to Hamburg, Ia., to reside.

The bride is a graduate of the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing.

in the high fifties and the lower sixties—

But we are not so concerned with the streets as we are with the people—So, we went calling—and we found more than a little activity—We learned that Mr. and Mrs. Dale Scheer, their two children, Dennis and Cindy, accompanied by Miss Lee Adell Scheer, left on Saturday to spend the Easter week-end with Mr. Scheer's grandfather, Fred Mehl, in Arlington.

And off to Crete to spend Easter went Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hense and their two children Cynthia and Steven, who were the guests of Mrs. Hense's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cech.

To Syracuse for the Easter holiday went Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kirby and their daughters, Diane and Cheryl, who spent the week-end as the guests of Mrs. Kirby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bartels.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pratt, we learned, were quite content to remain at home for the Easter holiday—and for quite a wonderful reason—The Pratts have a brand new baby son, David Lynn, who accompanied his mother home from the hospital a few days ago.

And that reminds us that Mrs. Pratt's mother, Mrs. John Balou, left late last week to return to her home in Wilsonville after spending several days getting acquainted with her grandson.

Leaving for their home in Axteon on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Larson who had been spending the past several weeks as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Almquist.

But Mr. and Mrs. Almquist are not to be without houseguests this week—Mr. Almquist's mother, Mrs. V. E. Almquist of Norman arrived on Sunday to spend a few days at the home of her son and daughter-in-law. She will be joined here next week-end by Mr. Almquist who will accompany her back to Norman.

And speaking of guests—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brodd had overnight visitors last Tuesday when they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Manske of Greenwood.

There is more news of the Brodds, however—Mr. and Mrs. Brodd and their son Merlin divided the Easter week-end between Mr. Brodd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brodd of Ashland—and Mrs. Brodd's mother, Mrs. Frank Semence in Ceresco. Another Brodd son, Lauren, has been spending his week of Easter vacation with his grandmother in Ceresco.

Another guest out Cotner Terrace way is Mrs. Raymond Stinson who came from Tecumseh to be the Easter week-end guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stinson.

Understand that a sewing club is meeting next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Albert Nelson, and that in the group will be Mrs. Nelson, of course—Mrs. Harold Connolly, Mrs. Wendell Sipp, Mrs. T. E. Hanneman and Mrs. George Anderson.

Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Dubinsky are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Joyce, to James Rodenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodenberg of Miami Beach, Fla.

A former student at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., Miss Dubinsky is now attending Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Rodenberg is a graduate of the University of Miami College of Law, and is practicing law in Miami, Fla.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Chose Early April Ceremonies

MRS. EARL HOWARD

For the wedding of Miss Alyce Bengston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bengston of Oakland, and Albert Duane Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howard of Holmesville, which took place on Sunday afternoon, April 1, the chancel of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Uehling was appointed with Easter lilies and lighted candles in seven-branched holders. Bows of satin ribbon marked the processional aisle on either side. The Rev. Hugo Welchert solemnized the 4 o'clock service and Mrs. John Rinderhagen, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Rinderhagen also accompanied Mrs. James G. Smith of Lincoln, the vocal soloist.

Mrs. Fred Arnold of Ashland was the matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Arnold's waltz-length frock was of blue crystalette and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white camellias and white carnations.

Fred Arnold of Ashland served as best man, and the ushers included Frederick Bengston, and Keith Howard of Holmesville.

The bride appeared in a gown of embroidered cotton. The bodice, designed with a neckline that was low and rounded in the front and extended into a deep V in the back, was smoothly fitted under a short fitted jacket of embroidered cotton. Beneath the slender waist the skirt flared into waltz-length fullness. The half-hat of seed pearls held to the head her veil of silk illusion and she carried a white prayerbook ornamented with white roses and blue-fringed carnations.

For the brief honeymoon trip, after which Mr. Howard and his bride will reside at 3048 R St., Lincoln, Mrs. Howard wore a navy print silk frock, with navy faille topper and navy and white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Wayne State Teachers College where she is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, and attended Colorado State College of Education. She is a member of Alpha Iota chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

MISS HELEN PATRICIA QUINN whose marriage to Gerald Joseph Watton will be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral this morning.

A profusion of Easter lilies, combined with greenery, will appoint the altar and chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral where the wedding of Miss Helen Patricia Quinn, daughter of Mrs. John Edward Quinn of Cozad, and Gerald Joseph Watton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Watton of Dawson, will take place this morning. The 10 o'clock service will be solemnized by the Rev. John Flynn, and Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, will play the wedding music and also accompany the vocal soloist, Louis Demma.

The alike frocks of the attendants, Mrs. Don Ogle Jr., the matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Watton of Dawson, sister of the bridegroom, the maid of honor, are fashioned of mauve pink crystalite. Above the bouffant, ballerina skirts the bodices are snugly fitted. They will carry colonial bouquets of pink roses encircled with feathered pink carnations.

John O'Grady will serve Mr. Watton as best man, and Karl Hansen of Manhattan, Kan., will be the groomsman. The guests will be seated by Lee Ogle of Humboldt, and James O'Grady. Given in marriage by her brother, John C. Quinn of Olathe, Kan., the bride will wear a gown of re-embroidered French Chantilly lace over taffeta. The empire mode is suggested in the long-sleeved, sculptured bodice in which a heart-shaped neckline is embroidered with sequins, and the voluminous skirt extends into a wide, chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion is held to the head with a tiara of seed pearls and she will carry a white prayerbook ornamented with American Beauty roses.

The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the church Hall after which there will be a wedding breakfast for only the immediate families at Hotel Lincoln.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the southwest and west, for which the bride will wear a gray suit and black accessories, the couple will go to Hamburg, Ia., to reside.

The bride is a graduate of the Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing.

GOP 'Hurting' In Corn And Hog State Of Indiana

Will Ike's Name Be Enough?
By JACK BELL
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Republicans are in political trouble in the corn-hog farm belt of Indiana. Whether President Eisenhower's name at the top of the ballot can save their state ticket won't be determined until November.

Democrats dispute GOP contentions that Eisenhower is as popular as in 1952. Then he carried the state by about 335,000 out of almost two million votes.

Most Republicans don't agree with Gov. George N. Craig, who heads the Eisenhower faction in Indiana's split GOP, that "we would have won (this year) without Eisenhower but he will greatly increase our majority."

Top GOP Men Disagree
Republican Sen. William E. Jenner, at odds with Craig, had a different view.

"Without Ike we wouldn't have had a chance," Jenner said. "With him on the ticket, we'll be all right."

On the Democratic side, National Chairman Paul M. Butler, who lives at South Bend, predicted the Democratic presidential nominee will sweep the state. He said his party will defeat Republican Sen. Homer Capehart and win a majority of the state's 11 congressional seats. The Democrats now hold only two.

Butler said the issues in Indiana are "the President's collapse of the farm program... the plight of small business... and the disturbing effects of our constitutional processes caused by the Eisenhower administration's strange attempt to rule by regency as a substitute for presidential leadership."

Prices Emphasized
Democratic State Chairman Charles Skillen puts the emphasis more directly on corn and hogs, which he said are selling in the market place at half what they were a year ago.

Whether disgruntled farmers are going to attach the blame for this to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, or take it out on Eisenhower himself, Skillen doesn't profess to know now.

Capehart says confidently that Eisenhower is "as strong as horse radish" in Indiana. He adds that "people who don't like a lot of things still like Ike." He said he is glad for Eisenhower's help but had been elected to the Senate twice without it.

More Labor Votes
Capehart predicted the Republican ticket will draw a greater share of labor votes, mostly concentrated in the Lake Michigan area near Chicago, than it has in the past.

On this score, Gov. Craig reported state gross income tax collections will set an all-time record for the first three months of this year. He said there is "virtually no unemployment in Indiana now."

But Claude Wickard, former secretary of agriculture who is expected to be the Democratic senatorial nominee against Capehart, thinks "unrest, dissatisfaction, and cynicism" in the farm areas will break the political backs of the Republicans.

Benson 'Hired Man'
Wickard said he finds most of the farmers he talks to "recognize that Benson is only the hired man for Eisenhower" and will blame the President when they go to the polls.

Along with Skillen, Wickard believes the farm vote is likely to be decisive this year in a state which ranks sixth in farming and ninth in industry.

Gov. Harold W. Handley, who is seeking the GOP nomination for governor with the support of Jenner and the opposition of Craig, forecast that the balance of power would lie in the farm vote in November.

Grass Fire Beaten By A Broom

Firemen kept hustling Easter Day battling 5 grass blazes

A sun splashed Easter Day spelled trouble for Lincoln firemen. Tinder-dry grass resulted in five fires Sunday including one which spread to a shed causing slight damage at Ruben's Tavern on the Highway 6 cutoff west of the city.

Sparks from the grass fire ignited a window casing on the shed. Other grass fires were reported at 23rd and T at 2:22 p.m.; 34th Orchard at 4:53 p.m.; West A and Burlington right of way at 6:51 p.m.; and at Penn Woods west of the penitentiary at 8:03 p.m.

Firemen were directed to douse a trash fire at 3744 Woods Ave. at 8:39 p.m. in a crackdown upon fires after 7 p.m.

March was the fifth driest month since 1900 for Lincoln which had only .25 of an inch during the 31 days.

Father Kills Child In Easter Mishap
ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A St. Paul man taking his family to church for Easter services backed over and fatally injured his 3-year-old daughter Sunday.

Marilyn L. Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox, died en route to a hospital.

Police said Cox apparently had not noticed the child was not in the car with the rest of his family as he backed out of his driveway.

'Tin Can Mail' Founder Is Dead
AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—George Quensell, founder of the famous "tin can mail service" from the volcanic island of Niua-tonga in the Pacific, died at Nukunono in the Tonga Islands.

Because heavy Pacific swells frequently prevented the use of canoes, Quensell in the early trading days hit on the idea of using native "postmen" who swam mail out in sealed biscuit tins to passing steamers.

By 1939 stamp collectors' demands had pushed this unique service into a major business. The service ceased during World War II and was finally abandoned in 1946 when volcanic activity caused complete evacuation of the island.

Many individuals, 165 4-H Clubs in 52 counties and several other organizations have sent contributions.

Memorial Fund For Guy Davis Totals $2,500
Contributions to a memorial fund for the late Guy R. Davis, who was assistant state 4-H Club leader, have reached nearly $2,500.

State 4-H Club Leader W. M. Antes said plans for the memorial hinge on development of an improved camping program for young people of the state.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mary Pickford served a double dish of nostalgia for Easter Sunday as she partied the biggest collection of silent film favorites since the movies found a voice.

'Oil Has Brought 1 1/2 Million Dollars To Garden County'
OSHKOSH, Neb. (AP)—The oil industry has meant a million and a half dollars to Garden County.

Harry Kaley, president of the Empire Oil Co., Denver, said in addition to the million and a half, thousands of dollars more will be invested when further drilling operations get under way.

Kaley anticipates the additional work will get under way "within a matter of weeks."

A Million Acres
A check with the assessor's office, he said, reveals there are a million acres of abstracted land in Garden County, exclusive of school land and federal wild life game bird refuges.

Of that land, Kaley reported, about 840,000 acres are under lease for oil at an average of 65 cents an acre annually, or a total of about $546,000.

Another half million dollars has been spent in Garden County in drilling operations and $500,000 more has gone into seismograph work, he estimated.

Rocks, Clubs, Fists Fly In Michigan Dairy Farmer Strike

Pickets Smash Truck Windows; Two Men Reported Arrested

DETROIT (P)—Rocks, clubs and fists flew Sunday in Michigan's week-old milk strike as striking dairy farmers battled nonstriking producers to throttle supply lines and force creameries to meet their price demands.

Squads of state police were rushed to tiny Elsie and Ovid, roughly 100 miles northwest of Detroit, where Sheriff Percy J. Patterson of Clinton County reported he was unable to cope with growing violence at milk collection depots.

Stoning pickets smashed windshields of two giant tankers pulling out of the Elsie depot for Detroit, at whose creameries the strike is aimed primarily.

One tanker careened out of control momentarily on the depot driveway, sideswiping two cars and narrowly missing several pickets, but the driver finally made a highway and police protection.

Both Get Through

Both lumbered on toward Detroit amid the curses of more than 150 pickets in Elsie, a town of 911 population.

An open-bodied truck loaded with 10 10-gallon containers and guarded by 14 nonstriking was showered with rocks as it pulled into the Elsie station. Its windshield was smashed, too, but no one was seriously injured.

Another farmer arriving with milk lost three windows from his car.

At Ovid, 10 miles south of Elsie, pickets ringed a collection station and thwarted efforts to move six big tankers out in a convoy. The trucks, in file, inched forward with eight state troopers walking in front toward more than 100 circling pickets. One trooper slipped and fell and the others quit pushing against the pickets. The trucks stayed where they were.

Two Arrested

Two men identified as having stoned trucks at Elsie were arrested by state police. Clinton County Prosecutor Frederick Lewis, who arrived with the troopers, said the two would be charged with malicious destruction of property.

Lewis warned strikers he had dissuaded nonstriking from carrying baseball bats and other weapons and would not permit pickets to throw stones.

State police headquarters said at Lansing that troopers were "keeping highways under surveillance" but not running lead or interference for milk trucks.

"They have orders," a spokesman said, "to stay on the highways and be prepared to take appropriate action in event laws are broken or disorders occur on the highways. There have been some traffic arrests for interference."

There was trouble at spots other than Elsie and Ovid.

Fifty cans of milk were dumped by a striker squadron which intercepted a convoy near Howell, midway between Detroit and Lansing. Another convoy of farmers was attacked when a sheriff's guard was late in arriving, but finally made it through to Detroit.

Deputies drove off the raiders upon their arrival, but not before several windows were cracked with clubs and attempts made to shove the milk vehicles down embankments. Two pickets gashed themselves on broken windows trying to get at drivers.

Other convoys, many escorted by sheriff's convoys, got through to Detroit, but the supplies they brought were expected to fall far below the two million quarts metropolitan Detroit consumes daily. There was little or no milk on store shelves Saturday and Friday and most home deliveries were cut by at least half.

No Pinch Outside Detroit

Cities outside the metropolitan area, which contains roughly half of Michigan's six million people, reported sufficient milk to go around or "no pinch at all."

The strike was called by the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., which is demanding $6.50 per hundred weight—46½ quarts—for farmers, against a $4.41 rate when the strike began with the picketing of two Detroit creameries and quickly spread to outstate supply lines.

The Fair Share group, composed of members of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., expressed dissatisfaction with the older organization's bargaining for farmers. Fair Share spokesman claim the 12,800 member MMPA can not bargain under antitrust laws, because it operates creameries itself.

MMPA has termed the FSBA strike "wildcat," but since it started began a campaign of its own for a $5 per hundred pounds price for farmers. It threatened to strike Monday unless creameries met its demands.

Price Agreed But MMPA announced Sunday that a majority of the metropolitan area's 62 processing plants had agreed to the $5 price and it would not strike.

It still declined comment on whether the $5 price was coupled with an MMPA guarantee of delivery.

Creamery spokesmen claim a $5 price will raise retail milk prices a cent and a half a quart; a $6.50 rate 4½ cents. Standard milk retailed at 22 cents in stores and 23 cents home delivered before the strike.

Kremlin Twins Temperamental; Eden Is Worried Over Script

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (P)—You never know what a headline attraction booked.

It's sure-fire. There's only one snag.

The two artists are temperamental with a flair for the unconventional and throwing away the script.

How do you make sure everything can be kept dignified?

That's the uneasy position confronting Prime Minister Eden as he looks forward to the April 18 visit of the Kremlin Twins.

'B' and 'K'

Britons have already given the act a flippant title—"B. and K." Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev have set the stage to give a top-flight performance.

They even sent an advance man—an ex-Soviet premier, no less.

Georgi Malenkov, here to inspect British power plants, has slipped his guides repeatedly to show the people what a hail fellow well-met the new Soviet leaders can be.

The Eden government appears determined to keep a close check on the activities of Bulganin and Khrushchev.

The situation is a delicate one. Protocol dictates certain official courtesies to Bulganin as prime minister of the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev, though regarded as a strong man in the ruling Soviet clique, has no official government status.

The Eden government is more concerned at the impression which will be created abroad than at home.

Bulganin and Khrushchev will be given a 19-gun salute on their arrival at Portsmouth aboard a Soviet cruiser escorted by two Russian destroyers.

From then on their 10-day schedule has been carefully marked out.

The Soviet leaders will be received by Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor and inspect two big British atomic centers. Otherwise the emphasis will be on top-level political talks.

Canterbury Draws Georgi—Georgi Draws Throngs

CANTERBURY, England (P)—Georgi Malenkov toured Canterbury Cathedral Sunday as a guest of its controversial "Red Dean," 82-year-old Dr. Hewlett Johnson.

Malenkov's presence drew a crowd of 200 English sightseers, who pushed aside chairs and stood on choir stalls to get a look at the former Soviet Premier.

As Dr. Johnson guided his Russian guests the choir was singing a special Easter anthem. The music soared up through the cathedral's massive arches. Malenkov stood listening.

"It is very beautiful" he said. "This is a very solemn and very beautiful place."

Vandals Smash Glass In Buildings And Auto

Window glass on the front door and second story window was shattered at 1102 N by unidentified objects thrown at the glass, police said.

Johnson's Iron Works at 214 So. 9th, and the Elks Lodge at 212 So. 9th, reported broken glass damage totaling $12.

Richard Dempster of 2525 Calvert, told police the front left vent glass on his car was broken while the car was parked in a downtown alley. Damage was estimated at $7.50.

The Rev. Arthur G. Crisp, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, spoke on "The Continuing Resurrection" at the annual Scottish Rite lighting of the lights ceremony Easter morning.

The Rev. Crisp outlined three steps in a continuing resurrection. They are the fact of experience, the assurance of one's acceptability to God, and the fact of conquering evil in human life, he said.

About 325 persons attended the service and the Easter breakfast which followed. James E. Keill, acting wise master of Knights Rose Croix chapter, presided at the 8 a.m. program.

Slayer Affected By Full Moon? —Cops Wonder

COSTA MESA, Calif. (P)—Search for the knife slayer of two young women took a weird turn towards the moon Sunday.

Detectives cited the fantastic-sounding possibility of a moon murder after comparing full moon phases on the stabbing deaths of Mrs. Barbara Jean Jepson in Van Nuys and Mrs. Olea Camille Johnson in Costa Mesa.

"Far-fetched as it may seem, records show that some psychopathic criminals are influenced by the moon," commented Det. Sgt. Al Ortiz who is assigned to the Jepson case. "It's a theory that should not be overlooked."

Mrs. Jepson was knifed to death Jan. 31, four days after a full moon. Mrs. Johnson was killed March 23, two days after the full moon.

Other similarities have led police to theorize the same killer committed both crimes.

Speeder Chased At 100 MPH; Shot Dead By Lawman

DARIEN, Wis. (INS)—A Tomah, Wis., driver was shot and killed by police near Darien Sunday in the climax of a wild 40-mile chase at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

Officials identified the motorist as E. H. Sarney, 25, who had been working in a garage at Woodstock, Ill.

Sarney was spotted driving erratically through the main streets of Crystal Lake, Ill., but escaped when police tried to stop him.

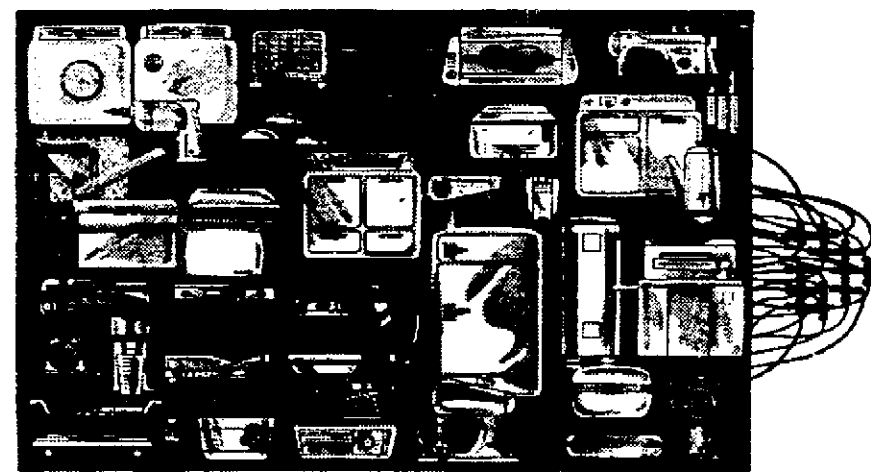

Alerts were sent out along the highway and roadblocks were set up at Woodstock and Harvard, Ill. Sarney plowed through both roadblocks, narrowly missing several policemen.

The chase continued into Wisconsin along U.S. Highway 14 with police cars from Woodstock, Harvard and Crystal Lake in pursuit. It ended when Sarney was shot in the head by a Harvard officer as the autos rocketed down the highway.

Rocks, Clubs, Fists Fly In Michigan Dairy Farmer Strike

Pickets Smash Truck Windows; Two Men Reported Arrested

DETROIT (AP)—Rocks, clubs and fists flew Sunday in Michigan's week-old milk strike as striking dairy farmers battled nonstriking producers to throttle supply lines and force creameries to meet their price demands.

Squads of state police were rushed to tiny Elsie and Ovid, roughly 100 miles northwest of Detroit, where Sheriff Percy J. Patterson of Clinton County reported he was unable to cope with growing violence at milk collection depots.

Stoning pickets smashed windshields of two giant tankers pulling out of the Elsie depot for Detroit, at whose creameries the strike is aimed primarily.

One tanker careened out of control momentarily at the depot driveway, sideswiping two cars and narrowly missing several pickets, but the driver finally made a highway and police protection.

Both Get Through
Both lumbered over toward Detroit amid the curses of more than 150 pickets in Elsie, a town of 911 population.

An open-bodied truck loaded with 10 10-gallon containers and guarded by 14 nonstriking was showered with rocks as it pulled into the Elsie station. Its windshield was smashed, too, but no one was seriously injured.

Another farmer arriving with milk lost three windows from his car.

At Ovid, 10 miles south of Elsie, pickets ringed a collection station and thwarted efforts to move six big tankers out in a convoy. The trucks, in file, inched forward with eight state troopers walking in front toward more than 100 circling pickets. One trooper slipped and fell and the others quit pushing against the pickets. The trucks stayed where they were.

Two Arrested
Two men identified as having stoned trucks at Elsie were arrested by state police. Clinton County Prosecutor Frederick Lewis, who arrived with the troopers, said the two would be charged with malicious destruction of property.

Lewis warned strikers he had dissuaded nonstriking from carrying baseball bats and other weapons and would not permit pickets to throw stones.

State police headquarters said at Lansing that troopers were "keeping highways under surveillance" but not running lead or interference for milk trucks.

"They have orders," a spokesman said, "to stay on the highways and be prepared to take appropriate action in event laws are broken or disorders occur on the highways. There have been some traffic arrests for interference."

There was trouble at spots other than Elsie and Ovid. Fifty cans of milk were dumped by a striker squad near Howell, midway between Detroit and Lansing. Another convoy of farmers was attacked when a sheriff's guard was late in arriving, but finally made it through to Detroit.

Deputies drove off the raiders upon their arrival, but not before several windows were cracked with clubs and attempts made to shove the milk vehicles down embankments. Two pickets gashed themselves on broken windows trying to get at drivers.

Other convoys, many escorted by sheriff's convoys, got through to Detroit, but the supplies they brought were expected to fall far below the two million quarts metropolitan Detroit consumes daily. There was little or no milk on store shelves Saturday and Friday and most home deliveries were cut by at least half.

No Pinch Outside Detroit
Cities outside the metropolitan area, which contains roughly half of Michigan's six million people, reported sufficient milk to go around or "no pinch at all."

The strike was called by the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., which is demanding $6.50 per hundred weight—46½ quarts—for farmers, against a $4.41 rate when the strike began with the picketing of two Detroit creameries and quickly spread to outstate supply lines.

The Fair Share group, composed of members of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., expressed dissatisfaction with the older organization's bargaining for farmers. Fair Share spokesman claim the 12,600 member MMPA can not bargain under antitrust laws, because it operates creameries itself.

MMPA has termed the FSBA strike "wildcat," but since it started began a campaign of its own for a $5 per hundred pounds price for farmers. It threatened to strike Monday unless creameries met its demands.

Price Agreed
But MMPA announced Sunday that a majority of the metropolitan area's 62 processing plants had agreed to the $5 price and it would not strike.

It still declined comment on whether the $5 price was coupled with an MMPA guarantee of delivery.

Creamery spokesmen claim a $5 price will raise retail milk prices a cent and a half a quart; a $6.50 rate 4½ cents. Standard milk retailed at 22 cents in stores and 23 cents home delivered before the strike.

Kremlin Twins Temperamental; Eden Is Worried Over Script

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON (AP)—You're a stage manager with a headline attraction booked.

It's sure-fire. There's only one snag. The two artists are temperamental with a flair for the unconventional and throwing away the script.

How do you make sure everything can be kept dignified? That's the uneasy position confronting Prime Minister Eden as he looks forward to the April 18 visit of the Kremlin Twins.

'B' and 'K'
Britons have already given the act a flippant title—"B. and K."

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev have set the stage to give a top-flight performance.

They even sent an advance man—an ex-Soviet premier, no less. Georgi Malenkov, here to inspect British power plants, has sipped his guides repeatedly to show the people what a hail fellow well-met the new Soviet leaders can be.

The Eden government appears determined to keep a close check on the activities of Bulganin and Khrushchev.

The situation is a delicate one. Protocol dictates certain official courtesies to Bulganin as prime minister of the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev, though regarded as a strong man in the ruling Soviet clique, has no official government status.

The Eden government is more concerned at the impression which will be created abroad than at home.

Bulganin and Khrushchev will be given a 19-gun salute on their arrival at Portsmouth aboard a Soviet cruiser escorted by two Russian destroyers.

From then on their 10-day schedule has been carefully marked out.

The Soviet leaders will be received by Queen Elizabeth II at Windsor and inspect two big British atomic centers. Otherwise the emphasis will be on top-level political talks.

Canterbury Draws Georgi—Georgi Draws Throngs

CANTERBURY, England (AP)—Georgi Malenkov toured Canterbury Cathedral Sunday as a guest of its controversial "Red Dean," 82-year-old Dr. Hewlett Johnson.

Malenkov's presence drew a crowd of 200 English sightseers, who pushed aside chairs and stood on choir stalls to get a look at the former Soviet Premier.

As Dr. Johnson guided his Russian guests the choir was singing a special Easter anthem. The music soared up through the cathedral's massive arches. Malenkov stood listening.

"It is very beautiful" he said. "This is a very solemn and very beautiful place."

Place Judges Threaten Strike

Erring Machine Highlights Swim Meet

By LOU BLACK
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The 33rd NCAA swimming meet can't miss going down in history as the one in which a machine to record finishes received more publicity than the water wizards who performed. The machine, an electronic device, nearly caused a "strike" among the place judges and finally was given the heave-ho Saturday night, just before the two final races.

But while the machine developed at the University of Michigan's engineering dept. and used with success in Big 10 championships during the past year turned out to be a flop here, the three-day meet itself provided considerable excitement.

Major Highlights

Major highlights included a spectacular 1500-meter victory by George Green of Cortland State Teachers, who was clocked in 18:05.9, 13.1 second under the listed world mark; a thrilling triumph by Ohio State's Al Wiggins in the 200-yard individual medley, in which his time of 2:07.5 was announced as a new American record, and the breaking of at least a half-dozen meet standards.

There were other features, too. Iowa's Lincoln Hurring (100 and 200 yard backstroke), Indiana's Bill Woolsey (220 and 440 yard freestyle), and North Carolina's Dick Faden (200-yard butterfly and 200-yard breaststroke) scored "doubles", and Ohio State, aided by its brilliant divers and Wiggins, annexed the team championship for the 10th time in the last 14 meets, three in a row. The Buckeyes beat Yale 68 points to 54.

Rare Tie

And there also was a rare tie between Yale's Rex Aubrey and Stanford's Robin Moore in the 50 yard sprint Friday night that caused an uproar. It was called by the machine but, at the time, wasn't considered weighty enough to do more than bring an apology for "a loose wire."

The big hassle, which resulted in the tossing out of the machine, came after the 100-yard sprint Saturday night after the opinion of the machine once again conflicted with the three first-place judges. The machine picked Northwestern's Al Kuhn; the judges selected Aubrey.

It was at this point that the place-judges demanded a showdown, and threatened to quit. Chief Judge Bob Muir's response, after huddling with this committee, was "we're tossing the machine out from now on."

Said a Yale swimming official: "Aubrey was picked by six place-judges for first in two events and wound up credited with only a tie for one."

Other NCAA winners included Frank Fraumfelter, Ohio State, 1-meter dive; his teammate, Don Harper, 3-meter dive, and Yale's 400-yard freestyle relay and 300-yard medley relay teams.

A high-ranking 160-pounder until he went into the Army, the 24-year-old Giambra is determined to fight his way back to the top and into a title fight this year. Just before he received his Army discharge, he lost a close, split decision to Carl (Bobo) Olson then the champion.

Giambra's record is 42-4-1 with 24 knockouts. Sullivan, winner of three of four fights in U. S. this year, has a 65-18-3 record with 35 kayos.

Guns For 21st

Martinez, fourth-ranking 147-pound contender from Patterson, N. The way-haired, 26-year-old Martinez has a 47-3 record with 23 knockouts. Diaz, 24, has a 46-0-2 record including 28 knockouts.

Gaspar Ortega, 20-year-old Mexican middleweight prospect, opposes Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, Brooklyn, in the television 10-rounder (DuMont-TV, 9 p.m., CST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. Ortega, a recent graduate of the semi-final ranks, has a 32-7 record with 14 KOs. Smallwood's record is 17-4-2. He has stopped four opponents.

Other featured fighters in action around the country include heavyweight Willie Pastrano, featherweight contender Paul Jorgensen and lightweight Johnny Consaves. Pastrano, seventh-ranking contender from New Orleans, who has an unbeaten streak of 16, meets strapping Johnny Arthur of South Africa at New Orleans Wednesday night.

Pittsburgh Picks

NEW ORLEANS, General manager Joe Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates says the team has signed to hold its spring training camp at Ft. Myers, Fla., again next season.

He said the Pirates also have an option on the training site for the following three years.

That was the biggest break I ever got," he said. "I knew I never could crack the Yankee outfield when they had Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling out there. First base was my only chance to get to the big leagues. For the first time I'm relaxed, not pressing on defense." Newcombe was belted for 10 hits in the 6 innings he pitched, gave up 4 walks and unleashed a wild pitch. He was further hampered by five errors, three by shortstop Jasper Spears. Speaking of basketball, has there ever been a luckier freshman coach than Dick Harp, the successor to Phog Allen at Kansas?

Of course, Dick has been the coach in almost every phase but name only — Phog has been the leader, the spokesman, the morale-builder and the real genius—for the past several years.

But next season he will be the head coach of the University of Kansas team, complete with Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and a host of other talented players.

There are few coaches who land jobs with the prospects of national championships — a good chance, too — for the first three years.

Martin Forced At Second

Billy Martin, New York Yankees infielder, is forced at second as Jerry Coleman hit into a double play in the second inning of a game with the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday. Red Schoendienst, cent higher than in 1955, when 497,437 fans paid to see games in six cities.

An estimated 885,000 followers of Class A baseball will push through the turnstiles this year to watch baseball action in the league.

The addition of Amarillo and Albuquerque, making the league an eight-team loop again this year after Omaha and Denver joined the American Association before last season strted, accounts for much of the increased attendance.

Topeka, also a new entry in the league which replaced Wichita when that club was annexed by the American Association last winter, is expected to outdraw all other clubs.

Hobbs has estimated Topeka's attendance at 135,000 for 1956.

The league president figures Amarillo will draw 125,000 fans during the season and forecasts a turnout of 120,000 at Albuquerque's home games.

Hobbs also expects an increase in attendance at Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Des Moines and Sioux City, the other teams in the league.

The restoration of the Western league to eight team status will add interest throughout the season for the fans, Hobbs believes.

Sioux City fans will have a new crop of players to look forward to seeing when the Western League season kicks off. The Soos are affiliated with the St. Louis Cardinals this year. "The Cardinals always gave Omaha a colorful club and I look for them to put a similar club in Sioux City," Hobbs noted.

"While Topeka, Amarillo and Albuquerque may be temporarily frustrated for talent, their situation will be remedied early enough, I am quite certain, to make all three teams strong factors in the pennant race," Hobbs said. "So I look for an interesting race, the No. 1 concern when it comes to attendance."

Cards Beaten By McDermott

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Lefthander Mickey McDermott went the route Sunday, spinning a six-hitter as the New York Yankees defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2. The decision snapped a five-game losing streak for the American League champs.

McDermott, who was secured from Washington on Feb. 14, became the second Yankee hurler to go the distance. Don Larsen worked a complete game for the "B" squad against Richmond of the International League last Friday.

The southpaw gave up a homer to Wally Moon in the sixth and was touched for the other tally in the eighth on a walk. Red Schoendienst' single and two advancing groundouts. Schoendienst extended his hitting streak to 14 games. Hank Sauer made his Card debut as a pinch hitter and flied out.

Hank Bauer hit a homer in the ninth for the ninth and last Yankee hit. This came off righthander Stu Miller, who pitched the last two frames. Rookie Ben Flowers hurled the first seven.

Yogi Berra drove in three runs for the winners, with a third-inning single and a seventh-frame triple.

New York (A) 001 000 301—5 9 0 St. Louis (N) 000 001 010—2 6 1 McDermott and Berra; Flowers, Miller (6) and Cooper, Smith (7), L—Flowers. Home runs—New York, Bauer, St. Louis, Moon.

George Yardley, with 30 points, pushed his two-game total to 57. The former Stanford star moved two points ahead of Paul Arizin, who collected 27 for the Warriors Sunday night, in their battle for series scoring honors.

Yardley's two free throws with 42 seconds to go were the points that tipped the balance, but it took Devlin's interception to save the day.

Yardley, guarding Beck through most of the game, held the rookie from Pennsylvania to nine points.

Neil Johnston, second high scorer for the Warriors through the season, got 15 points Sunday night—five more than his first-game performance.

The Easter Day crowd of 6,976 singled out as special favorite Bob Houbregs, who suffered a broken nose in the game at Philadelphia but played with a mask Sunday night to relieve Larry Foust. Although used sparingly, Houbregs collected five points.

NU Gridders Resume Drills

Nebraska's spring football practice resumes this week and will continue until April 28, when the Alumni-Varsity game will highlight All-Sports Day.

Coach Pete Elliott and his aids will take up where they left off a week ago Friday when drills start Tuesday.

Plans call for the Husker gridders to work Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday for the next four weeks, thus getting in the allowed 20 days of spring drills.

Saturdays will be devoted to game-condition scrimmages.

Elliott has indicated that a great deal of emphasis will be placed on defensive play during the remainder of drills.

950 Golfers Try Early Spring Luck

Balmy spring weather, tempered slightly with frequent breezes, lured nearly 950 golfers to the four Capital City golf courses over the weekend.

Joe Gifford Sr. led the golfers, firing a one-over par 73 on the Pioneers course, while Reed was second with a 75, scored at Hillcrest.

AT HILLCREST several golfers pressed Reed for the top score over the weekend. Gene Chadwell earned runnerup honors for the two days, registering a sparkling 76.

Stan Stroh and Tom Dvorak each carded 78s, with Ed Smith scoring an 82. Pro Bunny Richards estimated the two-day list of golfers at more than 250.

AT LCC W. D. Kinsey tallied a 77 to lead a field of more than 200 golfers over the weekend.

Dick Russell pressed for honors with a 78. C. E. Swanson, H. E. VanBurg and Walter White scored 79s. Nebraska University basketball coach Jerry Bush, trying the course after a trip through the East, carded a 40 over nine holes.

At PARK VALLEY Dave Miller fired a 36 to top the field. Ron Young netted a 38, and Allen Peterson and Cathedral High athlete Larry Kellison each registered 39s.

AT PIONEERS a throng of 305 golfers toured the course, according to Pro John Peterson.

Leo Ostermiller followed Gifford in scoring with a 77. Walt Hanson registered a 78 and Joe Stefkovich shot a 79.

Next weekend the appointment system goes into operation. Peterson stressed, however, that players without appointments would be able to play, as the ball rack system would also be used.

Today members of the Nebraska PGA will meet in Fremont to aid the finishing touches to the State Championships and arrange the pro-amateur tourney dates throughout the state.

Both Bunny Richards of Hillcrest and Bud Williamson, LCC pro, will attend the meeting.

Fort Wayne Tips Warriors

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Rookie Corky Devlin stole a Philadelphia pass with 28 seconds remaining to nip chances for a Warrior victory Sunday night and give Fort Wayne an 84-83 victory in the National Basketball Assn. championship final. The best-of-7 series is now tied at one game each.

George Yardley, with 30 points, pushed his two-game total to 57. The former Stanford star moved two points ahead of Paul Arizin, who collected 27 for the Warriors Sunday night, in their battle for series scoring honors.

Yardley's two free throws with 42 seconds to go were the points that tipped the balance, but it took Devlin's interception to save the day.

Yardley, guarding Beck through most of the game, held the rookie from Pennsylvania to nine points.

Neil Johnston, second high scorer for the Warriors through the season, got 15 points Sunday night—five more than his first-game performance.

Playoffs Open Tonight In Basketball Classic

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coaches of the two AAU entries in the U.S. Olympic basketball finals opening here tonight put the finger on the College All Stars as playoff favorites.

Bruce Drake, former coach at Oklahoma University on leave from the Sooner school for four months to direct the Air Forces team in the Olympic setup, says it "isn't so."

Airing his views at a lengthy press conference Sunday, Drake, who is coach of the armed forces team in the finals, took issue with coaches Frank Fidler of the AAU champion Buchan Bakers, Seattle, and Gerald Tucker of the Phillips 66ers.

Both Fidler and Tucker said the College All Stars, boasting such players as two-time All-America Bill Russell of San Francisco and Hal (King) Lear of Temple, should win it "going away." Buckley O'Connor of the University of Iowa, coach of the All Stars, hadn't yet arrived from New York.

Opening Games

The opening games of the playoffs, will involve the armed forces and the Phillips 66ers at 7:30 o'clock (CST). The College All Stars and Buchan Bakers are scheduled to start two hours later.

The winning team of the three-night round-robin series will place a minimum of 5 and a maximum of 7 players on the 12-man team that represents the United States in the world games at Australia next November.

"Let's not kid ourselves about which team or teams should have the better chances of victory," Drake said. "The AAU teams have played as units all season and figure to be more solid."

All three coaches, along with AAU and college officials at the conference, agreed the playoffs will present the finest array of basketball talent ever assembled for one meet.

The College All Stars, who played in the Herald Tribune game and won 103-72 by the West over the East in New York City Saturday night, won't get a warmup session here. The other three teams had shooting sessions Sunday afternoon.

O'Connor, in a telephone interview from New York, said he was convinced his college crew was loaded with the desire to win.

"Take Bill Russell, for example," O'Connor said. "He's said all along that he didn't intend to miss the boat to Australia. And he's played just that way, too."

O'Connor said the unit that started for the West in the East-West game at New York Saturday night will get the opening call tonight. That includes Russell at center; Carl Cain of Iowa and Willie Naulls of UCLA at forwards, and K. C. Jones, San Francisco University, and Paul Judson, Illinois, at guards.

Chiefs' Ticket Drive Starts Wednesday

This is the week baseball fans get in on the Lincoln Chiefs pre-season bargain days.

Sparked by competition between 11 local service clubs, the Chiefs' second annual advance ticket campaign will begin at 7 a.m. Wednesday morning.

The kickoff will be a breakfast at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Then, for three days—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—the baseball bargain of the year will be on. General admission and bleacher books will be offered at a special rate.

In each book will be 11 tickets, the 11th one free. Prices are $9 for the general admission book, and $7.50 for the bleacher book. Both books contain the free bonus ticket.

Last year some 40,000 tickets were sold in three days and the 1956 goal is 50,000.

Over 250 workers from the service clubs will take part in the drive. The largest group of workers will come from the Rotary Club, 67. Others will furnish from 20 to 43 workers each.

Hal Totten, president of the Three-I League will be the kickoff breakfast speaker Wednesday morning.

The Chiefs are currently in spring training at Huntsville, Tex.

Giants Hit Road After 7-2 Victory

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The New York Giants closed out their 1956 stay in Arizona by walloping the Chicago Cubs 7-2 Sunday.

Home runs by Dusty Rhodes, Daryl Spencer and Gail Harris helped the Giants to a five-run rally in the first inning and thereafter the New York club coasted.

Southpaw ace Johnny Antonelli pitched the first seven innings for the Giants and checked the Cubs on three hits and one run, a seventh-inning homer by Pete Whisenant.

The other Cub run came on a homer by Ernie Banks off righthander Steve Ridzik in the eighth.

The Giants' first-inning outburst came at the expense of pitcher Warren Hacker. With one out, Alvin Dark and Willie Mays stroked successive singles. Rhodes followed with a blast over the right-field wall. The Spencer and Harris homers came with none on.

Dodgers Win Over Chisox In 11th, 4-3

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A single by rookie outfielder Gino Cimoli in the 11th inning scored Gil Hodges with the run that gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox Sunday.

A crowd of 6,957, largest ever to see an exhibition game in Tampa, saw the Sox get at least one hit in every inning for a total of 14 to the world champions' eight.

The victory, however, may have been costly for the Dodgers. Sandy Amoros, leading candidate for one of the outfield posts, suffered a possible fracture of the right ankle sliding to second base in the 10th. He was taken to a nearby hospital for X-rays.

Hodges opened the 11th with a single off Sandy Consuegra for his third hit of the game. He was sacrificed to second by Carl Furillo. Cimoli then singled home the deciding tally.

Hodges' three-run homer off Bill Fischer in the fourth accounted for the other Brooklyn runs. Minnie Minoso homered off Roger Craig in the fifth and the White Sox tied it up with two tallies off Karl Spooner in the sixth.

Chance For Miracle At Baltimore

By BOB MYERS

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — There is at least one interesting point that may be emphasized about the Baltimore baseball club. It affords someone a wonderful chance to make a miracle out of it.

Paul Richards, the general manager and field marshal, is first in line to make with the miracle, and as he has said himself, this is the year that something approaching this phase must be accomplished.

The Baltimore fan—no different from any other—can't be kept happy for long with a seventh-place club. That is where the Orioles have nestled for the two years they've been back in the American League.

Progress Questionable

Just how much progress Richards can achieve toward miracle status this year is debatable. He outought Washington for the bottom rung last year, or rather the Senators went out in the race for the cellar.

Most of the critics think it'll be about the same this season, with Baltimore even threatening to inch up and swap places for sixth position with Kansas City.

Baltimore's forte is defense—which happens to be Richards' basic theory—and the club apparently will bank on cashing in on opponents' blunders rather than using aggressive punch itself.

This is just as well, because in spring games thus far the Orioles have not been exactly the killer-type.

Strong Points

The strong points are at first base and behind the plate.

Gus Triandos, who stands 6-3 and weighs a good 200 or more, is the first baseman. He hit .277 last year, driving in 66 runs, and should be even more effective this year.

Triandos can and does shift to the catching job, but Hal Smith, another big fellow, is the main backstop, and a handy, good hitting young player he is.

Willie Miranda apparently is set for regular duty at shortstop. Defensively, Miranda is capable; at bat, a .255 hitter.

Bobby Adams probably will play a lot of second base, and Freddie Marsh will see a lot of third. But Richards likes to juggle his men about, so even those closest to the club aren't sure who'll be playing where.

Bob Boyd, up from Houston after a session at Chicago, where he played under Richards, is a good fill-in at first or in the outfield, and Dave Philley and Chuck Diering, nominally outfielders, have seen much infield work this spring.

As said before, the picture by position is a little scrambled.

Francona A Standout

Brightest spot in the outfield, if not the entire squad, has been the hitting of Tito Francona, a young man supposedly destined for Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League who began hitting the ball and was kept on the Oriole varsity.

The seasoned outfield starters opening day could be Dave Pope, Diering and Jim Dyck, unless Francona barges into the lineup. The club has a quantity of pitchers. Bill Wright, Jim Wilson, Ray Moore, Erv Palica, Harry Dorish, George Zuverink, reliever Artie Schallack—these represent the season veterans. It is still a little early to know what to expect from the rookies.

One thing is certain. Win or lose, the Orioles are still the champions to their springtime hosts in Scottsdale. And the faithful of Scottsdale have been given a thorough test particularly on the latter count.

Friend's 4-Hitter Whips A's, 8-1

NEW ORLEANS — Pitcher Bob Friend held the Kansas City Athletics to four hits Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the A's 8-1 in an exhibition game.

Friend retired the Athletics in order in five of the innings and became the first Pirate to pitch a full game this year. He struck out four and walked two.

The Athletics got their only run in the fifth on a single by Joe DeMaestri, a double by Troy Herriage and an infield out.

The Pirates got six runs in the first. They got another in the second and the last in the ninth.

Jack Shepard led the Pirates' 11-hit attack with three singles. Roberto Clemente drove in three runs with a pair of singles.

Scribe Mourns Late Colleague

Writer Gayle Talbot Was 'Sweet Guy'

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK — Some stories practically write themselves. Others are the product of exasperating mental toil, the phrases coming reluctantly and painfully.

But the toughest of all is that which concerns the passing of a friend, as each word brings the vivid picture of a vibrant personality. You see him seated nearby at his typewriter, dapper and immaculate as he composes some of the sweetest prose you would care to read. You hear him telling his latest story, with an explosive little chuckle as he reached the point.

So maybe the best way to tell about our late colleague, Gayle Talbot, is to try to forget sentiment and give a factual account of the sweet guy as we knew him.

He wouldn't like that sweet guy appellation, but it fits. He was a sweet guy, but also a very positive, determined fellow who loved an argument and who wouldn't back down for any man.

He was a little on the small side, plumpish, with knowing eyes peering through steel-rimmed specs and his face constantly wearing a whimsical expression as if secretly amused by life in general.

He would ease around serenely, never hurrying, the picture of bland self-confidence. Yet, as a perfectionist, he labored over his work to produce the smooth-flowing sentences that were a sheer delight to read.

He had a genius for the apt phrase, the pinpointed description. Who but Gayle Talbot would designate Doc Blanchard and

Glenn Davis when they were such a devastating force in the Army backfield a decade ago as "The Atomic Twins?"

Masterpieces

He could, and did, write about anything and everything, and no matter what the subject his finished product, typed with the care and precision that were a trademark, was a little masterpiece in itself.

We recall one dull winter day, bleak and chill, when he glanced from the window at the ice skaters on the Rockefeller Center rink, commented on the abbreviated costumes of the performers, and promptly wrote a highly-entertaining story comparing the skating attire of today with that of years long gone by.

A devoted husband and the father of two fine teen-age daughters, he loved his home in Long Island's Port Washington. On summer weekends he would labor happily in the yard until Monday mornings found him sunburned and aching, but content in his weariness as he told in detail of his war on crabgrass and the progress of his new hedge.

Detested Phonies

He detested phonies, and could spot one a mile away, and when he decided such an individual rated censure in print he virtually could take the hide off with one deft word or phrase.

A Texan born and reared, he nevertheless was irked by professional Texans, and with his pixie sense of humor could deflate anyone from his native state who went overboard in relating its wonders.

We saw him last 10 days ago in Tampa, where he died suddenly last Thursday. We can see him now, propped up in bed and chuckling as he told of the Texan who had three swimming pools—one filled with ice water for his rugged friends, a second containing warm water for his friends with more sensitive skins, and the third empty, for his pals who couldn't swim.

There never was anything negative about the little guy. As Spike Claassen remarked so pertinently: "He was a cocky little son-of-a-bitch, but we all loved him."

Phils Edge Reds On Single In 9th

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Joe Lonnett's single with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 exhibition victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Sunday.

The Phillies went into the ninth one down and tied the score when relief pitcher Hershell Freeman walked Ted Kazanski, forcing in a run.

In the fourth, with the Redlegs leading 2-1, Stan Lopata hit a three-run homer over the center-field fence, which is 25 feet high and 400 feet from the plate. It was called the longest blast ever seen in Clearwater.

Cincinnati (R's) ... 200 000 201—3 7 0
Philadelphia (P's) ... 100 300 002—6 6 0
Freeman (9), Freeman (9) and Hershell Freeman (9) ... 1—Freeman (9) and Lonnett. W—Pieretti. L—Lonnett. Home runs—Philadelphia, Lopata.

Probable Favorite

Head Man is the probable favorite, and the presence of Eddie Arcaro in the saddle won't hurt the chances of this roan son of Eight Thirty. A week ago at Eight Thirty, Head Man zipped home an easy winner in his first start of the season after wintering in South Carolina.

Nail is the top weight of the field with 125 pounds in the Experimental. If the fickle spring weather brings rain, Nail moves way up, for the grey colt sloshed through mud last fall to win the Belmont and Pimlico Futurities, and the Remsen. Cubs' Deal For Hoak Making More Sense In Added Hustle

By CHARLES MAHER

MESA, Ariz. — In a deal that elevated a few eyebrows, the Chicago Cubs last winter got third baseman Don Hoak, outfielder Walt Morin and pitcher Russ Meyer from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The way some people looked at it, the Cubs got robbed in the deal. This feeling was based on the other half of the trade. The Cubs had to give away third baseman Randy Jackson and pitcher Don Elston.

The key men in the swap were Hoak and Jackson. From the standpoint of hitting, it might be hard to figure out what the Cubs were thinking about when they let the dangerous Jackson go for a man who hit only .240 in 94 games with the Dodgers last year.

Gained In Hustle

Chicago Manager Stan Hack figures that if the Cubs sacrificed a little batting punch they gained in another department—hustle. And in Hoak, they've got a man with enough hustle to make a carnival barker look lethargic.

Take the other day, for instance. With the score tied in a game with Cleveland, the new Cub third sacker roared from second into third head first with a stolen base. The Cub batter hit an infield bounce and Hoak hurried home with the lead run.

In a game against the New York Giants in Phoenix, Hoak came up with another performance that indicated he's adopting the gambling, exciting base-running style of Jimmie Foxx. He stole first base on a throwback to the days when injuries were taken a little less seriously than today.

Hoak said here recently that he hoped Morin could take up any batting slack produced by Jackson's absence. But Hoak hasn't been leaving much slack lately.

In the last five games up to Sunday, he accumulated 12 hits in 20 times at bat. And Hoak is confident Don will improve on his 1955 hitting average by playing every day.

The 25-year-old infielder is something of a throwback to the days when injuries were taken a little less seriously than today.

Bobby Adams probably will play a lot of second base, and Freddie Marsh will see a lot of third. But Richards likes to juggle his men about, so even those closest to the club aren't sure who'll be playing where.

Bob Boyd, up from Houston after a session at Chicago, where he played under Richards, is a good full-in at first or in the outfield, and Dave Philley and Chuck Diering, nominally outfielders, have seen much infield work this spring.

As said before, the picture by position is a little scrambled.

Francona A Standout

Brightest spot in the outfield, if not the entire squad, has been the hitting of Tito Francona, a young man supposedly destined for Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League who began hitting the ball and was kept on the Oriole varsity.

The seasoned outfield starters opening day could be Dave Pope, Diering and Jim Dyck, unless Francona barges into the lineup.

The club has a quantity of pitchers. Bill Wight, Jim Wilson, Ray Moore, Ery Palica, Harry Dorish, George Zuverink, reliever Artie Schallack—these represent the season veterans. It is still a little early to know what to expect from the rookies.

One thing is certain. Win or lose, the Orioles are still the champions to their springtime hosts in Scottsdale. And the faithful of Scottsdale have been given a thorough test particularly on the latter count.

Friend's 4-Hitter Whips A's, 8-1

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Pitcher Bob Friend held the Kansas City Athletics to four hits Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the A's 8-1 in an exhibition game.

Friend retired the Athletics in order in five of the innings and became the first Pirate to pitch a full game this year. He struck out four and walked two.

The Athletics got their only run in the fifth on a single by Joe DeMaestri, a double by Troy Herriage and an infield out.

The Pirates got six runs in the first. They got another in the second and the last in the ninth.

Jack Shepard led the Pirates' 11-hit attack with three singles. Roberto Clemente drove in three runs with a pair of singles.

Scribe Mourns Late Colleague

Writer Gayle Talbot Was 'Sweet Guy'

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Some stories practically write themselves. Others are the product of excruciating mental toil, the phrases coming reluctantly and painfully.

But the toughest of all is that which concerns the passing of a friend, as each word brings the vivid picture of a vibrant personality. You see him seated nearby at his typewriter, dapper and immaculate as he composes some of the sweetest prose you would care to read. You hear him telling his latest story, with an explosive little chuckle as he reached the point.

So maybe the best way to tell about our late colleague, Gayle Talbot, is to try to forget sentiment and give a factual account of the sweet guy as we knew him.

He wouldn't like that sweet guy appellation, but it fits. He was a sweet guy, but also a very positive, determined fellow who loved an argument and who wouldn't back down for any man.

He was a little on the small side, plumpish, with knowing eyes peering through steel-rimmed specs and his face constantly wearing a whimsical expression as if secretly amused by life in general.

He would ease around serenely, never hurrying, the picture of bland self confidence. Yet, as a perfectionist, he labored over his work to produce the smooth-flowing sentences that were a sheer delight to read.

He had a genius for the apt phrase, the pin-pointed description. Who but Gayle Talbot would designate Doc Blanchard and

Glenn Davis when they were such a devastating force in the Army backfield a decade ago as "The Atomic Twins?"

Masterpieces

He could, and did, write about anything and everything, and no matter what the subject his finished product, typed with the care and precision that were a trademark, was a little masterpiece in itself.

We recall one dull winter day, bleak and chill, when he glanced from the window at the ice skaters on the Rockefeller Center rink, commented on the abbreviated costumes of the performers, and promptly wrote a highly-entertaining story comparing the skating attire of today with that of years long gone by.

A devoted husband and the father of two fine teen-age daughters, he loved his home in Long Island's Port Washington. On summer weekends he would labor happily in the yard until Monday mornings found him sunburned and aching, but content in his weariness as he told in detail of his war on crabgrass and the progress of his new hedge.

Detested Phonics

He detested phonics, and could spot one a mile away, and when he decided such an individual rated censure in print he virtually could take the hide off with one deft word or phrase.

A Texan born and reared, he nevertheless was irked by professional Texans, and with his pixie sense of humor could deflate anyone from his native state who went overboard in relating its wonders.

We saw him last 10 days ago in Tampa, where he died suddenly last Thursday, and we heard his last joke. We can see him now, propped up in bed and chuckling as he told of the Texan who had three swimming pools—one filled with ice water for his rugged friends, a second containing warm water for his friends with more sensitive skins, and the third empty, for his pals who couldn't swim.

There never was anything negative about the little guy. As Spike Claassen remarked so pertinently: "He was a cocky little so-and-so, but we all loved him."

Phils Edge Reds On Single In 9th

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Joe Lonnett's single with one out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 exhibition victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Sunday.

The Phillies went into the ninth one down and tied the score when relief pitcher Hershell Freeman walked Ted Kazanski, forcing in a run.

In the fourth, with the Redlegs leading 2-1, Stan Lopata hit a three-run homer over the center-field fence, which is 25 feet high and 400 feet from the plate. It was called the longest blast ever seen in Clearwater.

Souchak Wins Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Mike Souchak rolled in a 5-foot putt for a birdie on the last green Sunday to win the Azalea Open Golf Tournament by one stroke from Dick Mayer.

The 210-pound Souchak, former Duke University football end who plays out of Grossingers N. Y., matched Mayer's four-under-par 68 finish to preserve the one-stroke lead which he had held over the St. Petersburg, Fla., professional at the start of the round.

Victory was worth $2,200 of the total pot of $12,500 to the 28-year-old Souchak, who boosted his stock for the Masters classic opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga. He tied for fourth place last year in his first appearance in the blue ribbon event.

Souchak had three-putted the short 16th and parred the 17th to come up to the last hole needing a birdie to win. After a fine drive he unfurled a great 11 iron shot to the green and the ball stopped 5 feet from the hole.

Score, Cleveland Tip Orioles, 5-3

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Herb Score yielded only one hit and struck out four batters in pitching five scoreless innings Sunday as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3.

The young southpaw ran his streakout total to 13 for the 17 innings he has pitched since the exhibition season opened.

The victory gave the Indians the Cactus League championship with a 14-8 record. The New York Giants were champs last year.

A double by Al Rosen produced two runs for the Tribe in the first inning and ran his RBI total to 20. Rosen has made 20 hits in 41 times at bat for a .489 average.

Cubs' Deal For Hoak Making More Sense In Added Hustle

By CHARLES MAHER

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—In a deal that elevated a few eyebrows, the Chicago Cubs last winter got third baseman Don Hoak, outfielder Walt Moryn and pitcher Russ Meyer from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The way some people looked at it, the Cubs got robbed in the deal.

This feeling was based on the other half of the trade. The Cubs had to give away third baseman Randy Jackson and pitcher Don Elston.

Gained In Hustle

Chicago Manager Stan Hack figures that if the Cubs sacrificed a little batting punch they gained in another department—hustle. And in Hoak, they've got a man with enough hustle to make a carnival barker look lethargic.

Take the other day, for instance. With the score tied in a game with Cleveland, the new Cub third sacker roared from second into third head first with a stolen base. The Cub batter hit an infield bounce and Hoak hurried home with the lead run.

In a game against the New York Giants in Phoenix, Hoak came up with another performance that indicated he's adopting the gambling, exciting base-running style of Jumpin' Jim Rivera of the White Sox. Don socked a hard liner at the shortstop and the ball bounced into center field for a hit. It looked like a single, but Hoak, running like a man caught in an air raid, shot around first base.

Stars Lose Twice To Globetrotters

NEW YORK (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters swept both ends of a day-night doubleheader from the College All-Stars Sunday by taking the night game 72-64 before 10,083 in Madison Square Garden.

An afternoon crowd of 12,135 witnessed the Globetrotters' 61-52 victory over the same All-Stars in a game which opened the seventh annual cross-country tour of the troupe which will cover 20 games in 18 cities in as many days with Boston Monday night's stop.

The Globetrotters had to go all out in the nightclub as they battled from behind to gain a 57-57 tie at the end of three periods. Then, in the last quarter, the collegians stopped cold, scoring only seven points while the Trotters collected 15.

DON HOAK

and belly flopped into second with a double.

Not Much Slack

Hack said here recently that he hoped Moryn could take up any batting slack produced by Jackson's absence. But Hoak hasn't been leaving much slack lately.

In the last five games up to Sunday, he accumulated 12 hits in 21 times at bat. And Hack is confident Don will improve on his 1955 hitting average by playing every day.

The 28-year-old infielder is something of a throwback to the days when injuries were taken a little less seriously than today.

GOP Says Demo's Running 'Do-Nothing Congress'

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans, with White House backing, took a leaf out of Harry S. Truman's 1948 campaign book Sunday by charging that the Democrats are running a "do-nothing Congress."

Democrats replied that the Republicans are setting up a political howl without giving Congress a chance to compile its record.

The Republican National Committee said in its monthly publication, "Straight From the Shoulder," that, "The second session of the Democrat 84th is shaping up as a 'do-nothing Congress.'"

"The Disappointed"

Sherman Adams, the President's chief assistant, told a television audience he is sure that Eisenhower "so far has been disappointed in the accomplishments of this Congress."

The GOP National Committee publication said:

"With three months of the present session already gone, the Senate has passed only two major bills — the gas and farm measures."

"The President vetoed the former when arrogant lobbying tactics were unearthed; the latter — when it left the Senate after weeks of stalling and filibustering by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and some of his colleagues — was a mishmash."

"Congress Paralyzed"

"The semiparalysis within Congress is a manifestation of the mounting tensions within the Democratic party."

The publication said Democratic members of Congress were "agitated" at the "unprecedented move" of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler in writing party leaders urging them to speed up legislation lest the Democrats be in "a very weak position" in the November election.

Sen. John D. Johnston (D-SC) commented that the Republicans "are trying to use something we were very successful in using after the Republican 80th Congress."

Terry Carpenter Files For Unicam; Seeking Old Seat

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Former State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scott's Bluff has filed for the Legislature.

Carpenter, in filing Saturday, said he did so "in the belief there is only one major issue—real estate taxes. They are too high."

Carpenter, who served in the Unicameral in 1953-54, said he had "a number of plans to expand the tax base to reduce the burden on real estate." He said he would go into those plans before election.

In a statement, he said, "I have not been urged by anyone to file. It is strictly my own idea."

The 42nd district currently is represented by Sen. Amos Morrison of Mitchell. He is seeking reelection.

Carpenter was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1932 as a Democrat, serving one term. He ran for the U.S. Senate in 1948 as a Republican, being beaten in the primary by the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry.

Selassie To Visit Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia will visit Japan with his wife this summer, Kyodo news service reported. It will be the first visit to Japan by a foreign crowned head since World War II.

ent session already gone, the Senate has passed only two major bills — the gas and farm measures."

"Congress Paralyzed"

"The semiparalysis within Congress is a manifestation of the mounting tensions within the Democratic party."

The publication said Democratic members of Congress were "agitated" at the "unprecedented move" of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler in writing party leaders urging them to speed up legislation lest the Democrats be in "a very weak position" in the November election.

Sen. John D. Johnston (D-SC) commented that the Republicans "are trying to use something we were very successful in using after the Republican 80th Congress."

GOP "Second Worst"

In 1948 Truman keyed his successful campaign for election to the charge that a "do-nothing" GOP Congress, which he said was the "second worst" in history, had failed to cope with the nation's problems.

Johnston said he doesn't think the Republicans will have much luck with their use of this slogan because when the voters look at the record this fall, he said, they will see that "a great deal has been accomplished at this session and last year."

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate appropriations Committee said that while not many major bills have been finally enacted, Congress is ahead of its usual schedule.

Simpson Warns

In another article in the GOP publication, Chairman Richard Simpson (Pa.) of the Republican Congressional Committee warned his colleagues that because Eisenhower is expected to head the ticket "does not mean that we will automatically elect a Republican House and Senate."

"Perhaps the most sobering aspect of the picture," Simpson said, "is the realization that our opponents, admitting privately that they have little chance of defeating Mr. Eisenhower, will concentrate their major efforts in the congressional races."

Labor Negotiator Harry Moses Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry M. Moses, who was widely credited with bringing labor peace to the long-embattled soft coal industry, died Sunday at 59. He had cancer.

Moses' death came on the April 1 date which often in the past had marked the start of bitter strike struggles between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers headed by John L. Lewis.

Sunday, coincident with Moses' death, the nearly 200,000 soft coal miners came into a new 90-cent per-day wage increase, final installment of a total $2 daily pay boost negotiated peacefully by Moses and Lewis last fall.

8th Annual Pinewood Bowl Sunrise Easter Service Crowd Tops 2,500

More than 2,500 persons attended the eighth annual Pinewood Bowl Easter sunrise services Sunday morning.

The Rev. Carl Davidson, who spoke on "What Is Victory," said there are four kinds of victory—victory in contests, the achievement in a personal athletic goal, faith and courage to come through setbacks and the victory after long hope and search.

"The victory of the Resurrection belongs to the last category," he said. "It is the clear vision of the love and purpose of God, and the faith and courage to see it through."

Special music for the service was provided by the "Meitones," a boys' quartet from Lincoln High School. Capt. Walter Kennedy of the Salvation Army led the worshippers in the singing of hymns.

The Rev. Robert Davis, student pastor of the Baptists Disciples of Christ, gave the invocation.

The interdenominational service was sponsored by the Lincoln Civic Singfest Committee made up of members of the Lincoln Ministerial Association and the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Nearly 450 Lincolmites rose even earlier to attend the Bethany Christian Church's Easter pageant at 5 a.m.

Later in the day Lincoln churches had capacity crowds at two, and in some cases three, Easter services.

The Rev. Carl Davidson, pastor of First Methodist Church, will be the featured speaker at the Court of Honor.

Crash Survivors Return To LAFB

Maj. Dean R. Foster and Capt. Gordon F. Ware were back in Lincoln Sunday after walking away from a plane crash near Denver Saturday.

Maj. Foster, who piloted the plane, said the twin-engine C-43 Air Force plane developed propeller trouble on the take-off and he decided to make a forced landing to avoid the possibility of striking houses.

Maj. Foster, Capt. Ware, his copilot, and four passengers, ROTC air cadets, were not injured when the plane landed in an open field south of Lowry Air Force Base.

No property was damaged except the plane, Maj. Foster reported. He said the field in which they landed was not planted and the plane did not strike any fences.

The plane's right engine burst into flames after the landing, but the crew extinguished the blaze.

The two crew members are from the 818th Air Base Group at Lincoln, which was also the plane's home base.

Anybody Got Change For A Penny?

OMAHA (AP)—The United States Secret Service arrested a man near Plattsmouth and said he would be charged with altering minor coins.

Media Balthazor, 48, a transient, was picked up by Kenneth Hale, Secret Service agent in charge for Nebraska and Iowa. A warrant had been issued from Phoenix, Ariz.

Hale said the altered coins had been showing up in vending machines in recent months.

Pennies were coated with lead and apparently had been used in quarter slots to get the change return, he said.

The Secret Service had a description and license number of Balthazor's car. Hale spotted the car near Weeping Water.

No Mixed Bathing On These Beaches

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The City Council at Tainan has refused to lift a ban against mixed bathing in that south Formosa city.

Strongest supporter of the ban was Councilwoman Tu Hsi-yung, who said mixed bathing was immoral and likely to lead to serious abuses.

"There are more appropriate ways to increase the affection between husband and wife than by mixed bathing," she declared.

Shortest Routes Said Road Need

"Shortest possible routes which will still provide local and long distance traffic needs," is the modern method of highway construction, L. N. Ream, state engineer, told a delegation of an estimated 300 people from Otoe County protesting against a proposed relocation of Neb. 2.

They told Ream they do not approve the proposal to reroute north and east of Unadilla because it would "cut up valuable farm land." They urged going straight east from Unadilla to connect with Neb. 50.

Ream praised them for their interest in highways and pointed out that much interstate traffic uses the Nebraska City bridge. He said he recalled a few years ago when a large delegation objected to moving Neb. 2 some distance from Unadilla.

The state engineer pointed out that roads are no longer built straight north and south or east and west but to save mileage. As a result, he said some farm land has to be cut up. Expense of construction he said, makes the shortest route most feasible.

GOP Says Demo's Running 'Do-Nothing Congress'

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans, with White House backing, took a leaf out of Harry S. Truman's 1948 campaign book Sunday by charging that the Democrats are running a "do-nothing Congress."

Democrats replied that the Republicans are setting up a political howl without giving Congress a chance to compile its record.

The Republican National Committee said in its monthly publication, "Straight From the Shoulder," that, "The second session of the Democrat 84th is shaping up as a 'do-nothing Congress.'"

'The Disappointed'

Sherman Adams, the President's chief assistant, told a television audience he is sure that Eisenhower "so far has been disappointed in the accomplishments of this Congress."

The GOP National Committee publication said:

"With three months of the pres-

Terry Carpenter Files For Unicam; Seeking Old Seat

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Former State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff has filed for the Legislature.

Carpenter, in filing Saturday, said he did so "in the belief there is only one major issue—real estate taxes. They are too high."

Carpenter, who served in the Unicameral in 1953-54, said he had "a number of plans to expand the tax base to reduce the burden on real estate." He said he would go into those plans before election.

In a statement, he said, "I have not been urged by anyone to file. It is strictly my own idea."

The 42nd district currently is represented by Sen. Amos Morrison of Mitchell. He is seeking reelection.

Carpenter was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1932 as a Democrat, serving one term. He ran for the U.S. Senate in 1948 as a Republican, being beaten in the primary by the late Sen. Kenneth Wherry.

Selassie To Visit Japan

ent session already gone, the Senate has passed only two major bills — the gas and farm measures."

"The President vetoed the former when arrogant lobbying tactics were unearthed; the latter — when it left the Senate after weeks of stalling and filibustering by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and some of his colleagues — was a mishmash."

'Congress Paralyzed'

"The semiparalysis within Congress is a manifestation of the mounting tensions within the Democrat party."

The publication said Democratic members of Congress were "aghast" at the "unprecedented move" of Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler in writing party leaders urging them to speed up legislation lest the Democrats be in "a very weak position" in the November election.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) commented that the Republicans "are trying to use something we were very successful in using after the Republican 80th Congress."

GOP 'Second Worst'

In 1948 Truman keyed his successful campaign for election to the charge that a "do-nothing" GOP Congress, which he said was the "second worst" in history, had failed to cope with the nation's problems.

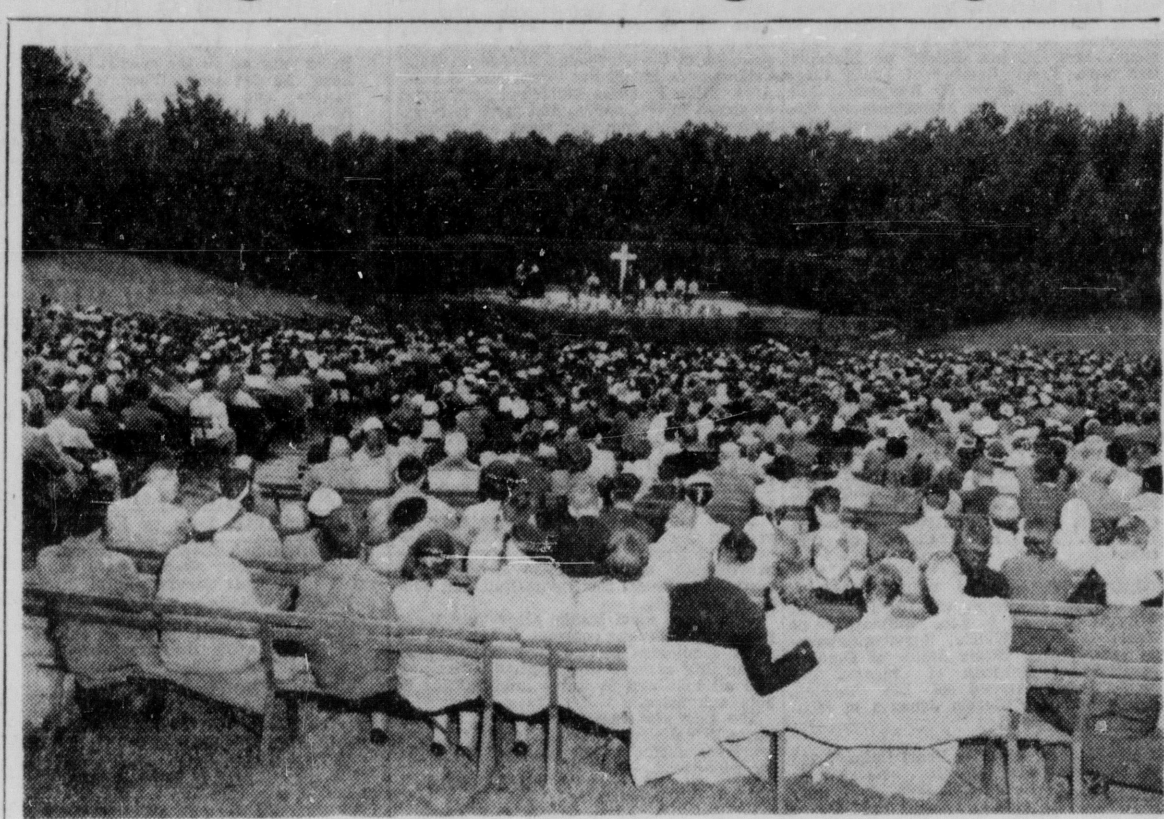

Johnston said he doesn't think the Republicans will have much luck with their use of this slogan because when the voters look at the record this fall, he said, they will see that "a great deal has been accomplished at this session and last year."

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate appropriations Committee said that while not many major bills have been finally enacted, Congress is ahead of its usual schedule.

Simpson Warns

In another article in the GOP publication, Chairman Richard Simpson (Pa.) of the Republican Congressional Committee warned his colleagues that because Eisenhower is expected to head the ticket "does not mean that we will automatically elect a Republican House and Senate."

"Perhaps the most sobering aspect of the picture," Simpson said "is the realization that our opponents, admitting privately that they have little chance of defeating Mr. Eisenhower, will concentrate their major efforts in the congressional races."

Labor Negotiator Harry Moses Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry M. Moses, who was widely credited with bringing labor peace to the long-embattled soft coal industry, died Sunday at 59. He had cancer.

Moses' death came on the April 1 date which often in the past had marked the start of bitter strike struggles between the mine owners and the United Mine Workers headed by John L. Lewis.

Sunday, coincident with Moses' death, the nearly 200,000 soft coal miners came into a new 90-cent per-day wage increase, final installment of a total $2 daily pay boost negotiated peacefully by Moses and Lewis last fall.

8th Annual Pinewood Bowl Sunrise Easter Service Crowd Tops 2,500

More than 2,500 persons attended the eighth annual Pinewood Bowl Easter sunrise services Sunday morning.

The Rev. Carl Davidson, who spoke on "What Is Victory?" said there are four kinds of victory—victory in contests, the achievement in a personal athletic goal, faith and courage to come through setbacks and the victory after long hope and search.

"The victory of the Resurrection belongs to the last category," he said. "It is the clear vision of the love and purpose of God, and the faith and courage to see it through."

Special music for the service was provided by the "Meiotones," a boys' quartet from Lincoln High School. Capt. Walter Kennedy of the Salvation Army led the worshippers in the singing of hymns.

The Rev. Robert Davis, student pastor of the Baptists-Disciples of Christ, gave the invocation.

The interdenominational service was sponsored by the Lincoln Civic Singlet Committee made up of members of the Lincoln Ministerial Association and the Women's

Crash Survivors Return To LAFB

Maj. Dean R. Foster and Capt. Gordon F. Ware were back in Lincoln Sunday after walking away from a plane crash near Denver Saturday.

Maj. Foster, who piloted the plane, said the twin-engine C-45 Air Force plane developed propeller trouble on the take-off, and he decided to make a forced landing to avoid the possibility of striking houses.

Maj. Foster, Capt. Ware, his copilot, and four passengers, ROTC air cadets, were not injured when the plane landed in an open field south of Lowry Air Force Base.

No property was damaged except the plane, Maj. Foster reported. He said the field in which they landed was not planted and the plane did not strike any fences.

The plane's right engine burst into flames after the landing, but the crew extinguished the blaze.

Anybody Got Change For A Penny?

OMAHA (AP)—The United States Secret Service arrested a man near Plattsmouth and said he would be charged with altering minor coins.

Media Balthazor, 48, a transient, was picked up by Kenneth Hale, Secret Service agent in charge for Nebraska and Iowa. A warrant had been issued from Phoenix, Ariz.

Hale said the altered coins had been showing up in vending machines in recent months.

Pennies were coated with lead and apparently had been used in quarter slots to get the change return, he said.

The Secret Service had a description and license number of Balthazor's car. Hale spotted the car near Weeping Water.

Reds And Nationalists Exchange Shell-Fire

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—One Communist warship was possibly sunk and another damaged in naval action off the Red China coast near the Matsus before daybreak Sunday, the official Central News Agency reported.

Central News said the action began when Red shore guns on the mainland opened fire on patrolling Nationalist warships in an apparent attempt to cover the Communist warships.

Chinese Reds Claim Civilians Are Killed

HONG KONG (AP)—The official New China News Agency said Sunday Nationalist artillery on the Quemoy Islands fired 1,200 shells on Amoy Tateng Island, Chiaoou and Lienho in the last few days. The Communist agency said the shelling killed six civilians, wounded four others and destroyed a number of houses and cattle.

The report added that Nationalist troops on the Wuchiu islet seized two Communist fishing boats with nine fishermen aboard last Thursday.

No Mixed Bathing On These Beaches

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The City Council at Tainan has refused to lift a ban against mixed bathing in that south Formosa city.

Strongest supporter of the ban was Councilwoman Tu Hsi-ying, who said mixed bathing was immoral and likely to lead to serious abuses.

"There are more appropriate ways to increase the affection between husband and wife than by mixed bathing," she declared.

Shortest Routes Said Road Need

"Shortest possible routes which will still provide local and long distance traffic needs," is the modern method of highway construction, L. N. Rens, state engineer, told a delegation of an estimated 200 people from Otoe County protesting against a proposed relocation of Neb. 2.

They told Rens they do not approve the proposal to reroute north and east of Unadilla because it would "cut up valuable farm land." They urged going straight east from Unadilla to connect with Neb. 50.

Rens praised them for their interest in highways and pointed out that much interstate traffic uses the Nebraska City bridge. He said he recalled a few years ago when a large delegation objected to moving Neb. 2 some distance from Unadilla.

The state engineer pointed out that roads are no longer built straight north and south or east and west but to save mileage. As a result, he said some farm land has to be cut up. Expense of construction he said, makes the shortest route most feasible.

Ag Chairman Expects GOP Move For 87 1/2%

... On Basic Crop Supports

NASHVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee said here Sunday that he anticipates a Republican move to peg price supports on basic crops at 87 1/2 per cent of parity when the farm bill comes before the House April 11.

But Rep. Harold D. Cooley (R-NC) said he is convinced that the House will turn down any such move.

The farm bill is before the Senate-House Conference Committee, which expects to complete work on it Friday afternoon.

Cooley, visiting at his home for the Easter holidays, said, "During the last week there was a clear indication that a compromise would be offered which would have fixed the price support level at between 87 1/2 and 90 per cent."

"No Compromise"

Cooley said "I made it known to the conferees that the House members of the Conference Committee would not accept a compromise, not even at 89 per cent. We are standing pat for 90 per cent. We are not only reflecting our views and convictions, but the views of the House."

Cooley said he was certain the House conferees "will not yield." As it now stands, the farm bill would retain price supports on basic commodities for one year and also retain dual parity provisions. Cooley said the conferees also have agreed on one phase of the soil bank program.

Soil Bank Voluntary

"We have agreed that the soil bank will be entirely a voluntary program," he said. "In taking this position we are acceding to the wishes of the administration..." Cooley declared. He added:

"I don't believe the President had been well advised" on the price support issue. "I think he has heard only one side. I think the White House has listened too much and too often to Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) and to other advocates of flexible supports..."

Minutes later they were notified from the ground that an object had fallen from their B-47 during climb-out.

They made two low passes over the tower, and it was determined the left flap, which is the control surface combining aileron and flap, was missing. With visual flight weather at Sidi Slimane, Captain Boles decided to burn out fuel and attempt a no-flap landing at Sidi Slimane.

Captain Boles made one low approach over the field to check the handling of the aircraft at low airspeed. Then he started in on his landing. Roll-out on final approach was made at 170 knots, or 190 miles an hour, and the airspeed continually diminished.

Contact with the runway was made at 153 knots indicated. The brake chute added to the trouble when it blossomed and then failed. However, by closing off four of the six engines, the plane was slowed enough to stop 8,000 feet down the runway.

Inspection of the B-47 afterward revealed that a cotter pin was missing and caused the loss of the flap.

The crew of the month award is given to the SAC which best demonstrates their ability to handle an emergency situation. This is the first time the award has been given to a Lincoln AFB crew.

Chairman Expects Crop Move For 87 1/2%

On Basic Crop Supports

NASHVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee said here today that he anticipates a Republican move to peg price supports on basic crops at 87 1/2 per cent of parity when the farm bill comes before the House April 11.

But Rep. Harold D. Cooley (R-NC) said he is convinced that the House will turn down any such move.

The farm bill is before the Senate-House Conference Committee, which expects to complete work on it Friday afternoon.

Cooley, visiting at his home for the Easter holidays, said, "During the last week there was a clear indication that a compromise would be offered which would have fixed the price support level at between 87 1/2 and 90 per cent."

"No Compromise"

Cooley said "I made it known to the conferees that the House members of the Conference Committee would not accept a compromise, not even at 89.9 per cent. We are standing pat for 90 per cent. We are not only reflecting our views and convictions, but the views of the House."

Cooley said he was certain the House conferees "will not yield." As it now stands, the farm bill would retain price supports on basic commodities for one year and also retain dual parity provisions. Cooley said the conferees also have agreed on one phase of the soil bank program.

Soil Bank Voluntary

"We have agreed that the soil bank will be entirely a voluntary program," he said. "In taking this position we are according to the wishes of the administration..." Cooley declared. He added:

"I don't believe the President had been well advised" on the price support issue. "I think he has heard only one side. I think the White House has listened too much and too often to Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) and to other advocates of flexible supports..."

LAFB Gets Monthly Award

Precision handling of a recent B-47 in-flight emergency gave Airplane Commander Capt. Thomas W. Boles, 98th Bomb Wing, Lincoln AFB, and his crew the Strategic Air Command-wide February crew-of-the-month award.

Captain Boles, with his pilot, Captain James A. Rowe and observer Capt. William C. White, had just departed from Sidi Slimane, French Morocco, on a routine training mission with their destination as Lakenheath, England, when a violent buffeting was experienced by the crew.

Minutes later they were notified from the ground that an object had fallen from their B-47 during climb-out at Sidi.

Captain Boles made one low approach over the field to check the handling of the aircraft at low airspeed. Then he started in on his landing. Roll-out on final approach was made at 170 knots, or 190 miles an hour, and the airspeed continually diminished.

Contact with the runway was made at 153 knots indicated. The brake chute added to the trouble when it blossomed and then failed. However, by closing off four of the six engines, the plane was slowed enough to stop 8,000 feet down the runway.

Inspection of the B-47 afterward revealed that a cotter pin was missing and caused the loss of the flap.

The crew of the month award is given to the SAC crew which best demonstrates their ability to handle an emergency situation. This is the first time the award has been given to a Lincoln AFB crew.

WISHING WELL

By William J. Miller

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

QUIRKS

Scooter Scoots
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A police scout car radioed headquarters for help. "We're chasing a speeder west on 13th. It's a late-model motor scooter and he's getting away," the message said.

Safety First
NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Police were pleased when a resident of Tucson, 65 miles away, walked into the station and handed over his car keys. He said he'd had one drink too many and asked police to contact his wife in Tucson. He thought she could drive him home.

Three-Cylinder Exit
DENVER (AP) — What is called the last steam locomotive in the United States that puffed in three-quarter time chugged its final trip between Denver and Cheyenne, Wyo., for the Rocky Mountain Railroad Club. The rail hobbyists sponsored the final run for No. 9000. The railroad said it was the last three-cylinder locomotive in service in the United States. Musicians say the powerful 9000 exhaust is in perfect three-quarter time. It has a third cylinder in the center connected to a crankshaft on the axle of the second pair of drivers. Like other steam locomotives, the 9000 was replaced by diesel engines.

Snails Fight Snails
AGANA, Guam (AP) — African snails which have become a pest in Pacific islands since being introduced by the Japanese in World War II are being fought by other snails. The giant African variety multiplied rapidly and destroyed enormous quantities of valuable plants. Now a cannibal snail has been imported from Portuguese East Africa. Robert P. Owen, staff entomologist of the Trust Territories says experiments were conducted for five years on a small, uninhabited island near Guam. He says the cannibals are proving effective.

Tobacco Studied
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two Michigan State University chemists are attempting to crack the secret of what causes nicotine to develop in the tobacco plant. Profs. Richard U. Byerum and Charles D. Ball say that if this secret is learned, scientists will be well on their way toward the development of nicotine-free tobacco with no objectionable side-effects which will diminish the taste of the product.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three I's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
